What the Bell Tolled . . .

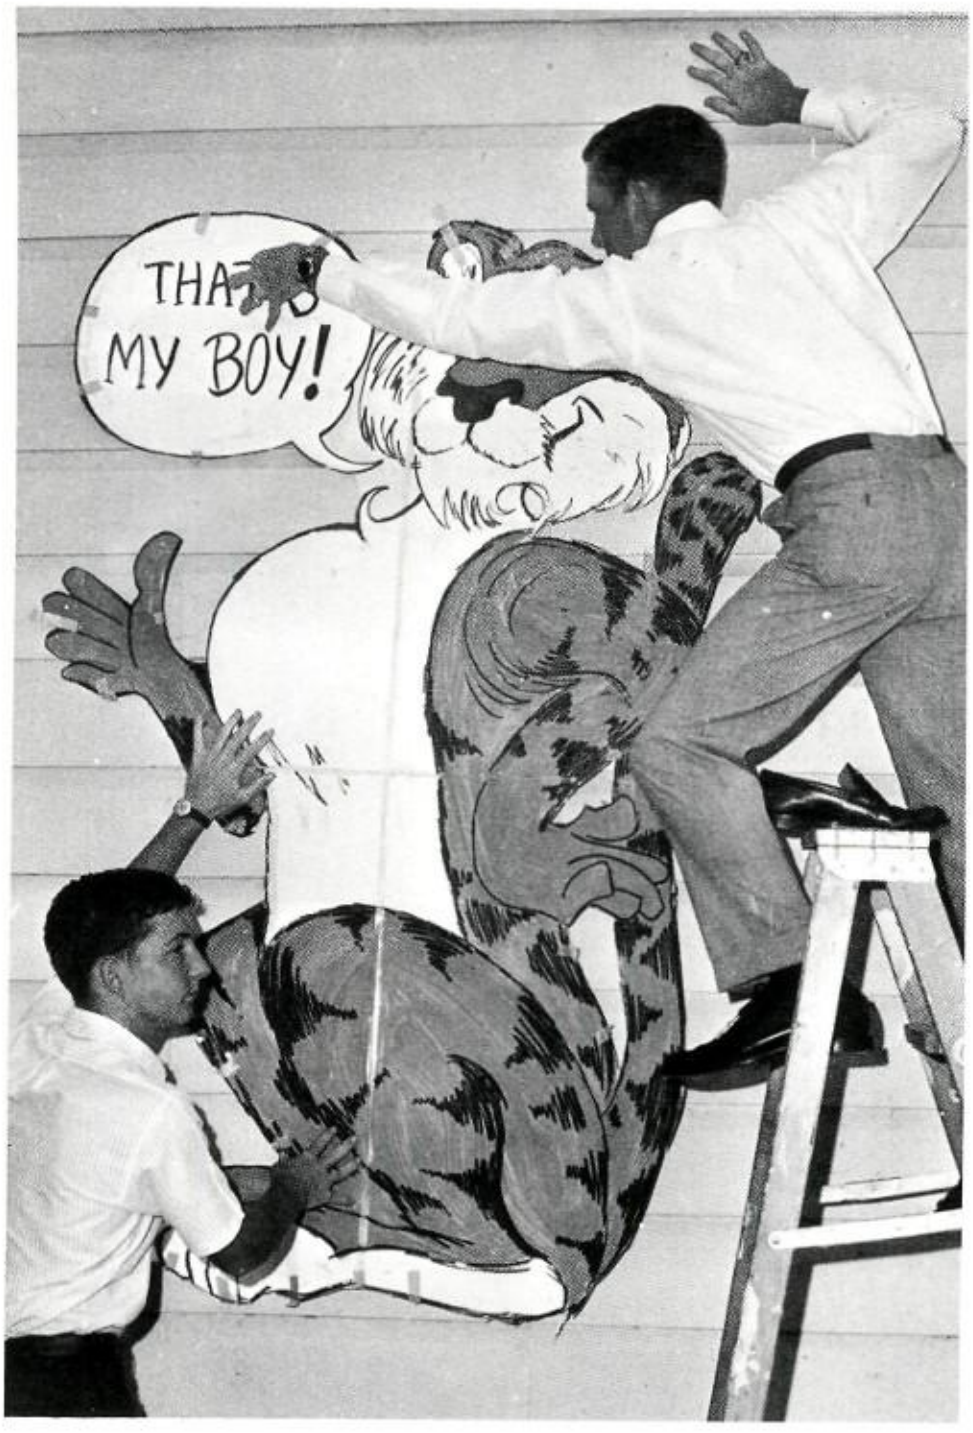
Mr. Roy Osborne looks in disbelief at the trash left on the last day of school.

The bell had sounded its final message. Everything was quiet. All that remained in the building were hundreds of lost books, thousands of loose papers, and a handful of bewildered custodians. The time was 12:10; the date, June 2, 1965; the occasion, the end of another school year.

The halls were still recovering from the scars of the recent student council elections, annual day, and senior day. The baseball spirit was still there too, for it had been an excellent season climaxed by the exciting playoff with Carter.

For many, however, it was a sad occasion, the last time to see old friends; for others, it was just the beginning of summer, the end of another school year.

Billie Chick's chick (Kelle Snyder) was one of the clever campaign gimmicks used to sway the voter. Billie won the race for secretary.



Tom Schieffer, right, successful candidate for president, and his campaign manager, John Lanford, work to complete preparations for the student council elections.

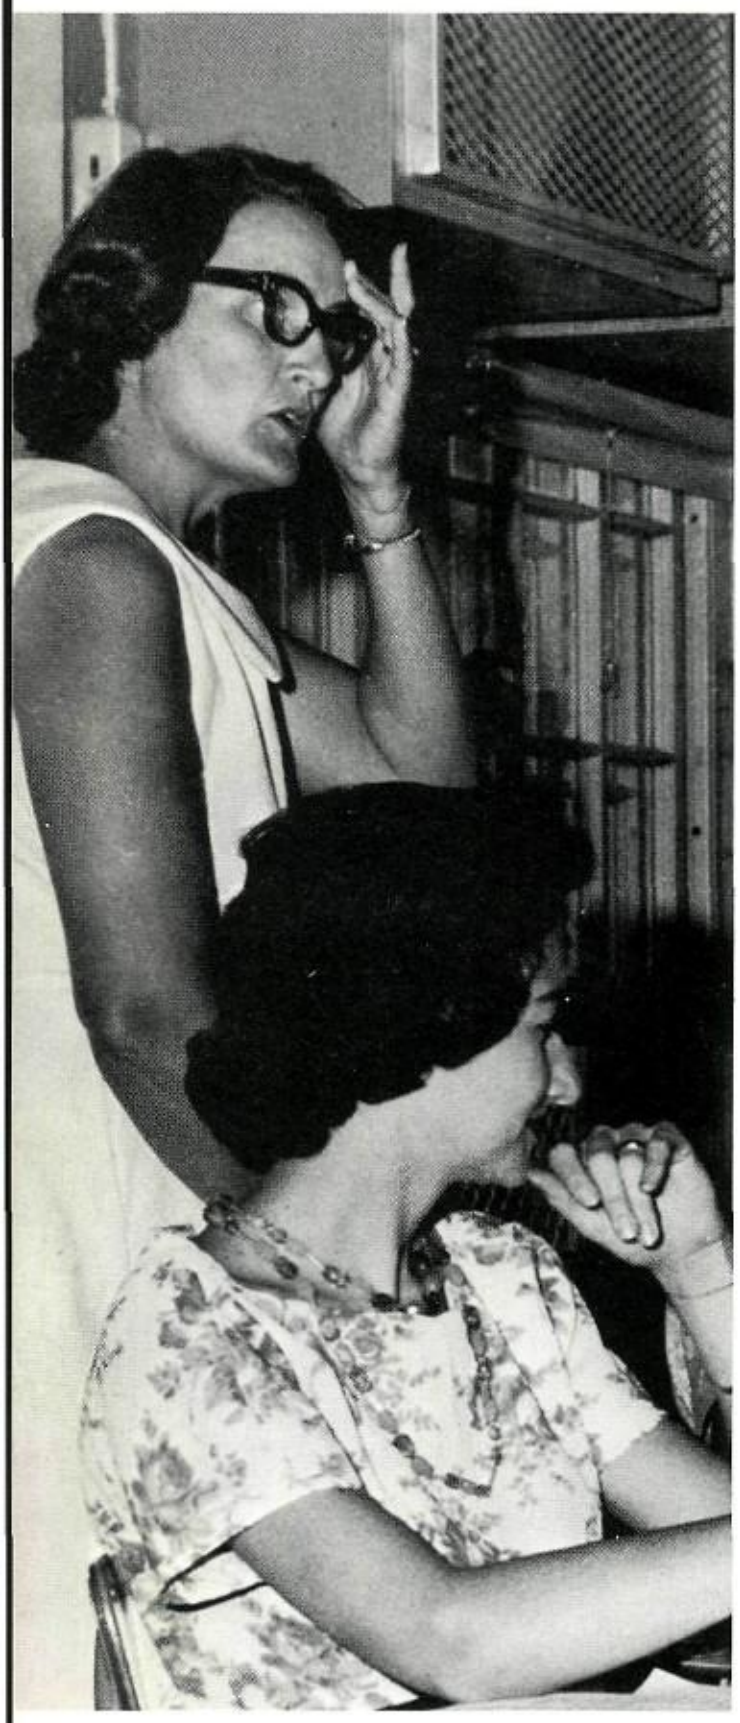
Recipe for Registration

Shred Nerves Coarsely



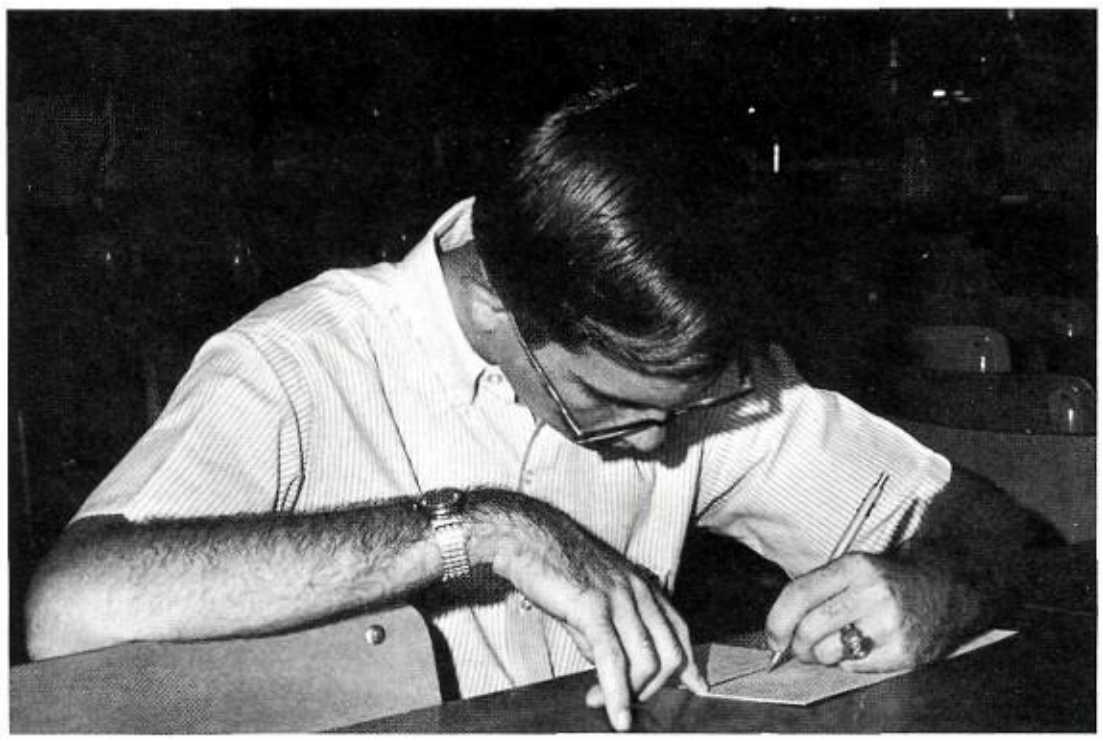
"Slip me a tranquilizer, Donna. Here comes Doyle Walters to switch his algebra period for the eighth time," chokes Mrs. Frances Coon to Mrs. Donna Joan Meyer.

INGREDIENTS: 2000 AHHS students and 72 teachers.

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Preheat oven (auditorium) to approximately 95 degrees.
2. Bake seniors in oven for 15 minutes or until lightly exhausted.
3. Take ingredients out of oven and put into toaster (homerooms).
4. Next add numbers ranging from 1 to 800; then place in long line outside of mixer (lunchroom). Let stand until stiff.
5. Beat into mixer in groups of 20 until thoroughly done (and relieved that it's finally over).
6. Repeat process for juniors.

"Same to you, fella," retaliates Coach Da Walker.

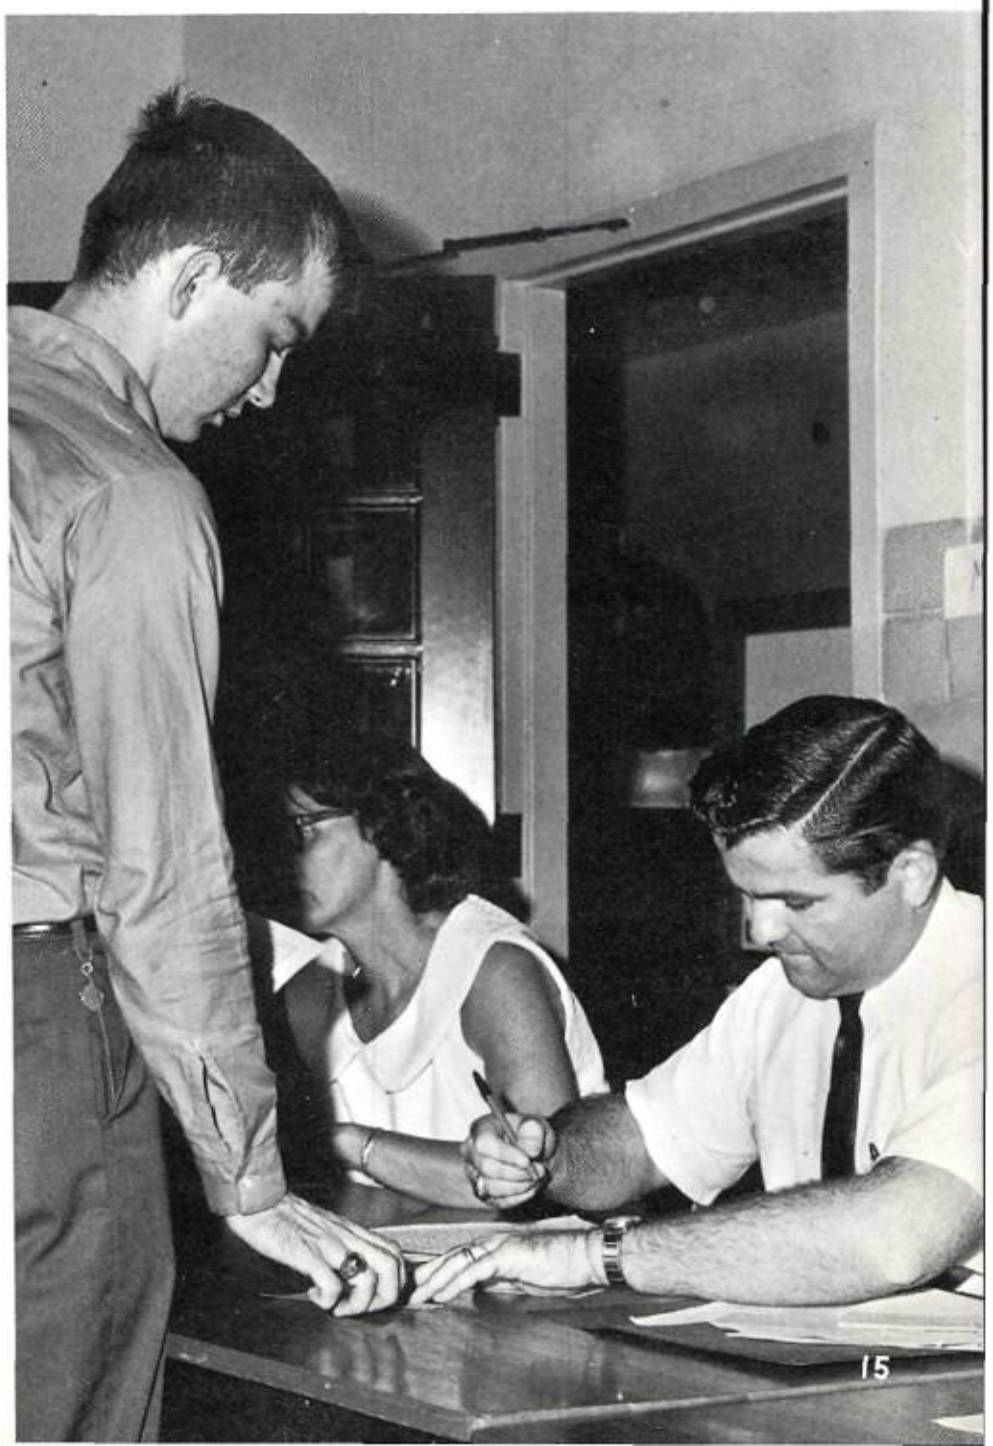


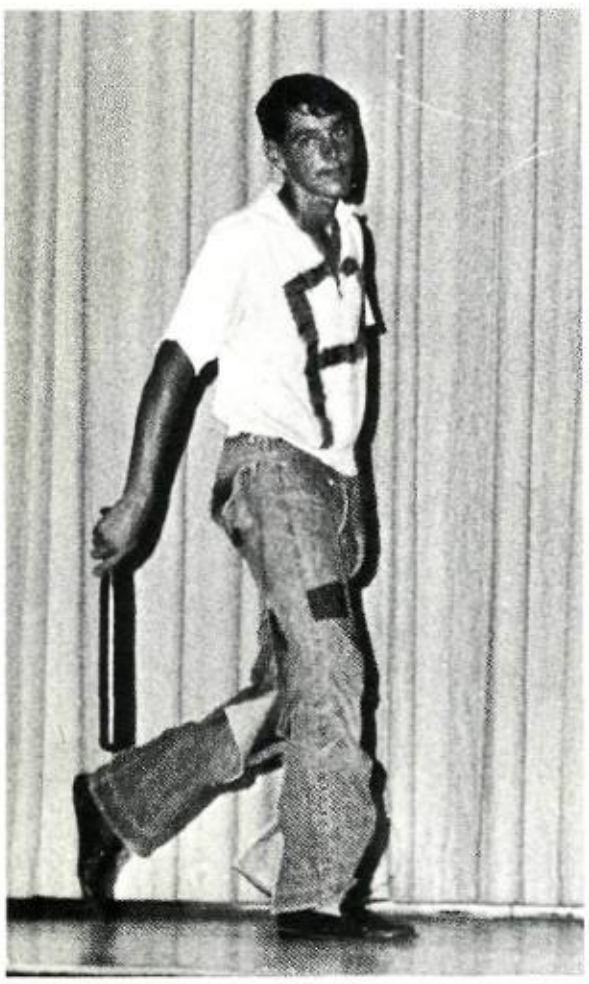
"I'll straighten out this schedule if it takes till one a.m.," vows Bobby Arnold. BONG!

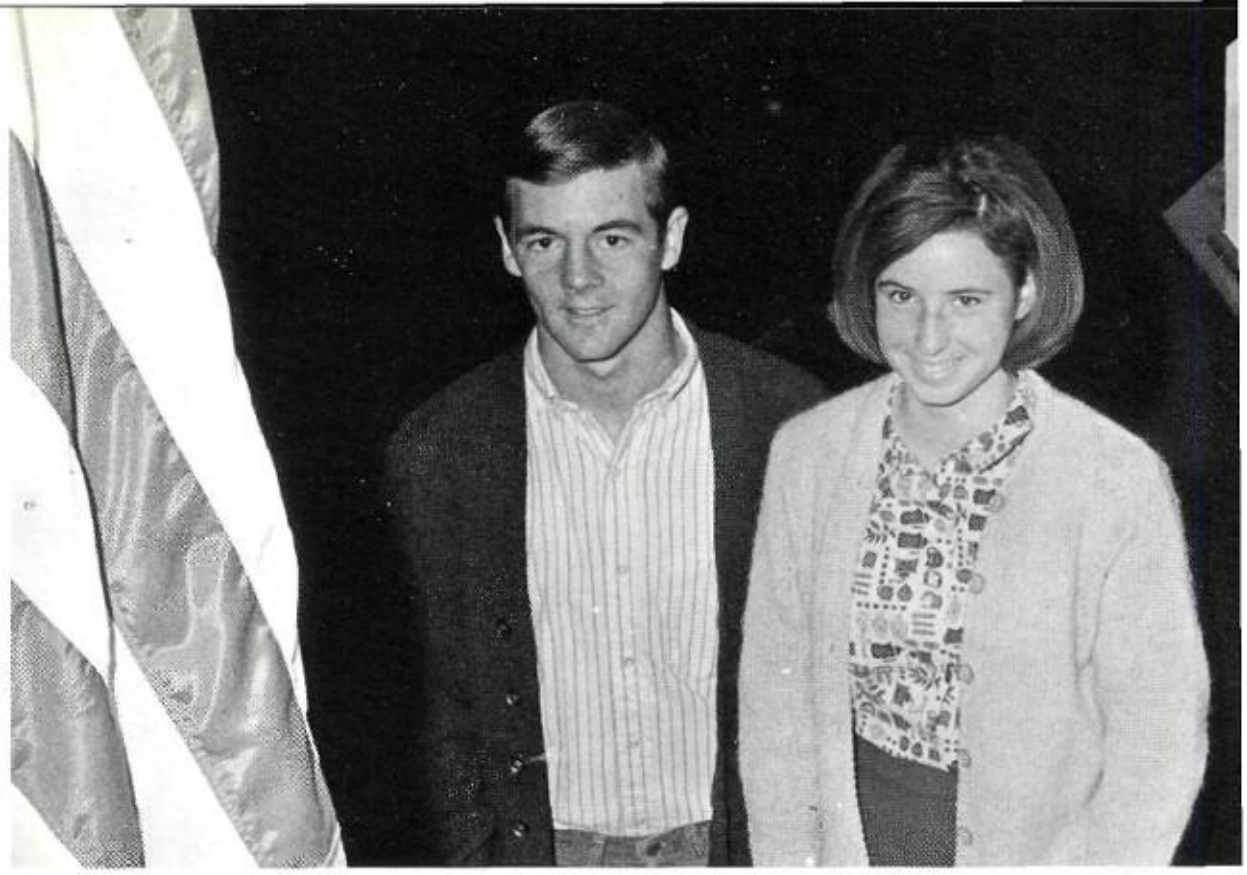
"But according to our calculations, the average student needs only two hours of school a day," argue Glenn Black, D'Anna Rankin, and Cathy Grubbs.

ven my Lindy pen is running a fever," moans Mrs. Mary Marsh.

"That's ten on Galloping Gurtie in the eighth," records Mr. Ed Kahler as he and Don Hickman use registration as a front for other activities.







"Don't look now, Sheila, but I think that guy up there has a camera," warns Howdy King Clancy Dunigan to Queen Sheila Dillard.

Johnny Williams gracefully models as a typical Paschalite during the AY skit in the Howdy Week program.

"Don't you like my combat glass slippers?" asks a hurt Wayne "Cinderella" Hueppelsheuser, the darling of the AY skit.

"Say, Cinco, you're supposed to play it, not drink it," advises Wayne Hueppelsheuser to Cinco Phillips, as Stephen Bruton, John Lanford and Ben Loughry continue in their efforts at singing.

It's Howdy Duty Time

Everybody had a howdy duty as the first miserable week of school rolled around. Sympathetic seniors showed sophomores to their classes, including the atomic lab underneath the "B" field and room 413 just below the dome. Seniors and juniors participated in the Howdy Day program on Monday of Howdy Week. The show's theme was "spending," for sophomores were expected to buy and join everything. As in years past, they did just that. It was well into November before they could afford anything else. Coronation of the Howdy King and Queen ended the week that began the year.

A thrown pie gooeily initiates master of ceremonies Mark Mays into the slapstick mood of the Howdy Week program.

"Take a gander at Mother Goose here," sniffs Fred Duck, front, of Patsy Robinson, back, narrator of the AY skit.

Out of Town Trip

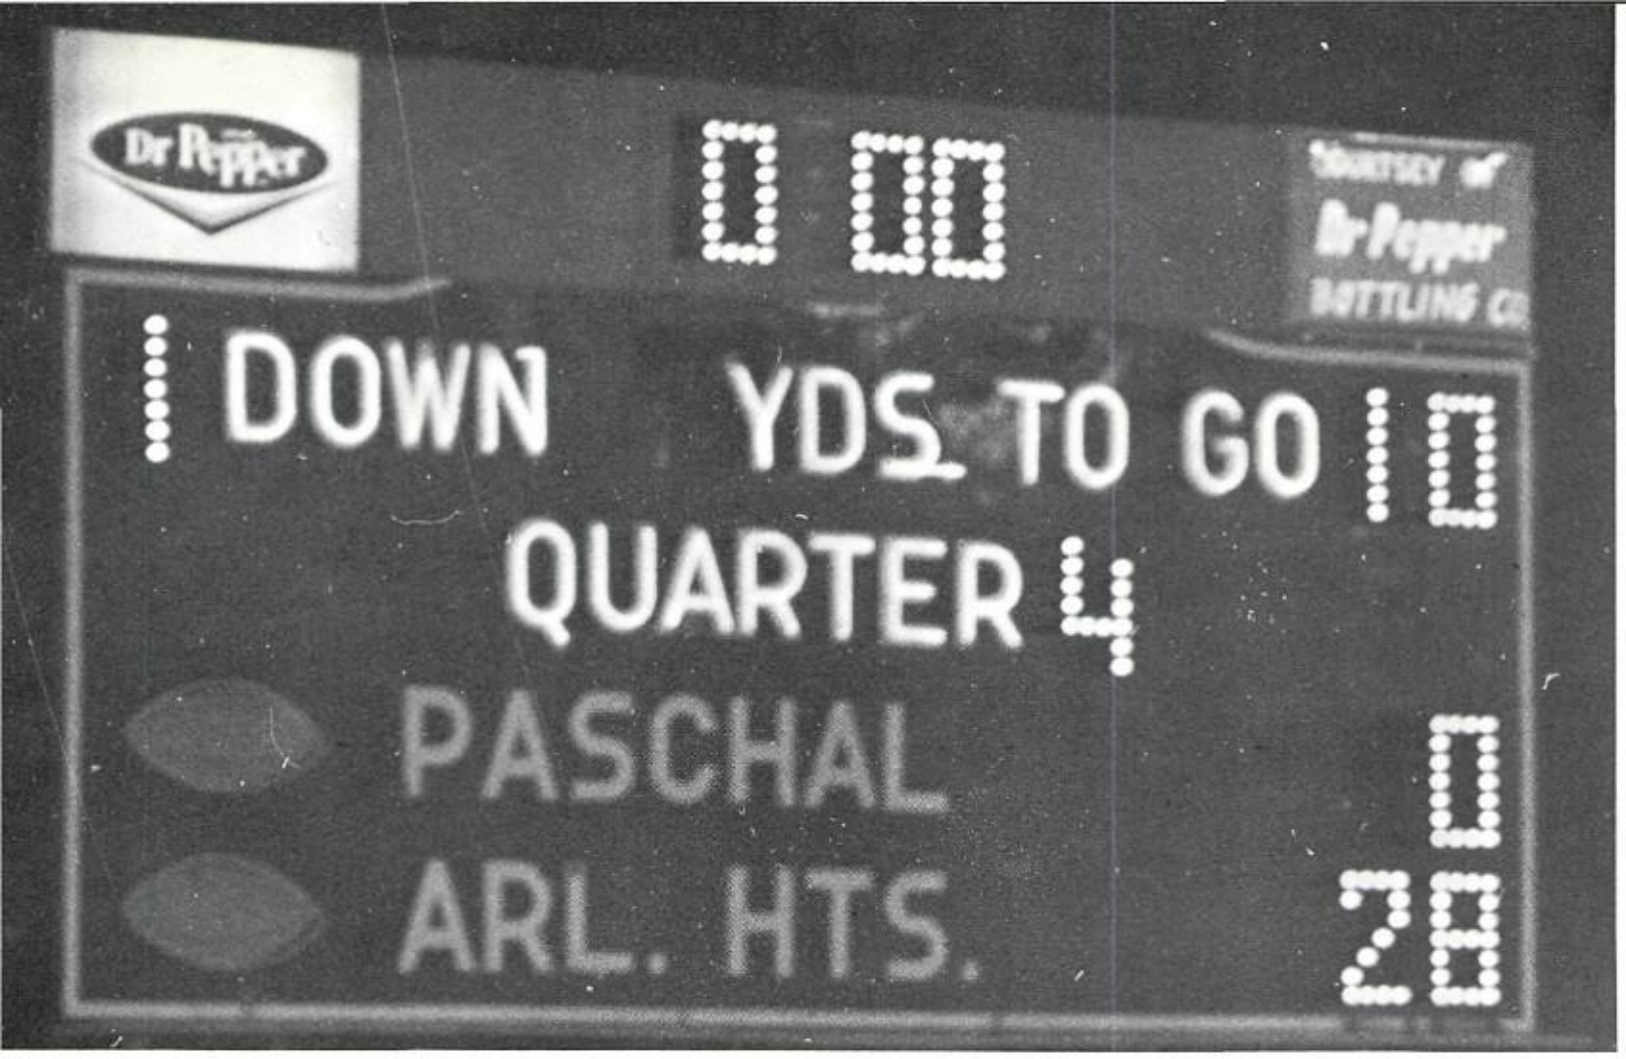
Hit the Road, Jackets

"If we hadn't missed that last exit on the Central Expressway, we wouldn't be here in Waterloo, Iowa," complains Joe Morrison to Judy Stewart and Jim Schutza.

Yellow Jackets had occasion to see panthers early this year as they faced the cats of Hillcrest The Dallas team hosted AHHS at Franklin Field to complete the pre-season schedule for the Jackets. Supporters made the turnpike trip in three school-sponsored buses and a caravan of cars. The short, rowdy jaunt was not made in vain despite the fact that the Panthers came out victorious, 20-13, because this game prepared the Jackets for the district season. The next Panthers they faced were not so fortunate.

"General Motors up ½, Telephone down an eighth," jokes Jackye Higby to Tim Carpenter, Barry Hubbard, and Debbie Campbell.

The hands of the crowd wave support.



Worth a thousand words.

Paschal Game

Paschal Lynched; District Clinched

We have met the enemy and they are ours.
Oliver Perry

The teams were lined up, ready for the opening kickoff. Each player envisioned victory and the district championship. The crowd was tense; an undefinable feeling of excitement was in the air. At AHHS the week had passed slowly, but finally November 12 had come. The pep rally, sparked by Miss Helen Hale's speech, climaxed the day's activities. Then it was 7:30; Farrington Field was packed; the ball went sailing off the toe of the Paschal kicker. The rest is now history. The winning football lies in the AHHS trophy case, an appropriate symbol of the fighting Jackets' 28-0 victory for the 1965 district championship.

Highlight of the football season, the 1965 Homecoming was nothing short of spectacular. To kick off the festivities, the Student Council Decorations Committee chose "Fling the Highlanders" as the official theme while encouraging originality for all decorations that adorned the halls. The committee also awarded prizes to the rooms with the best ideas.

By Friday excitement had reached a peak with the return of the exes and the colorful pep rally. The student body blossomed with Homecoming mums. Students left school with the determination to win and would accept nothing less. With this spirit AHHS rumbled through Eastern Hills Saturday night to capture a 10-0 victory and a perfect 6-0 district record.

After the game the action centered around the school gym where students and exes enjoyed the traditional dance.

As Mike Reilly leads the victorious team from the shower room to the gym floor, Bill Phillips, Mike Self, and scores of others applaud.

Pep Rallies

Yell, O Jackets

A bad start . . . a tie . . . two losses . . . and then a victory! The Jackets steamrolled Waco Richfield, 21-15. With this, student enthusiasm exploded. Pep rallies became opportunities to show school spirit rather than programs to arouse it. Cheerleaders put to use new yells learned at summer training school. Guest speakers radiated confidence of fresh victories . . . and their confidence was never betrayed.

Able to leap tall buildings at a single bound . . . It's Supermandeville!

Tirelessly, the cheerleaders lead the Second Front of the Heights football offensive.

Student-Faculty Game

Hello, Volley!

Volleyball is defined as a game played by volleying a large inflated ball with the hands over a net. It is doubtful, however, if Mr. Webster or any of the students at AHHS had ever seen a game of volleyball played the way it was December 9, 1965. Leading the attack for the invincible faculty in the annual student-faculty game were Handsome Hood, Romantic Richardson, Easyoff Edminster, Tornado Tomlinson, and Slap-It-Over Snyder. Their efforts were backed by the Faculty Band, composed of Wiggle Legs Walker, High Strutting Hanley, and Pushover Priddy.

The high point of the game was the coronation of the faculty king and queen, Lovable Ludiker and Hardboiled Hull. Tom Borgeson was presented as GIC Sweetheart.

The faculty "won", 17-12.

A typical faculty meeting finds (clockwise) Miss Gail Apperson, Mrs. LaVelle Halbert, Mr. Garland Threlkeld, Mr. Herbert Edminster, Mr. James Snyder, Miss Sue Coffman, and Miss Montier Ve Tomlinson in heated discussion of school policies.

"Priddy, isn't he?" jokes Mrs. Kathleen Hanley about Coach Merlin Priddy as they cheer for the faculty.

"AND UH ONE, AND UH TWO, AND UH THREE," bellows Coach Dale Walker, Guy Lombardo of the Faculty Band and Cheering Squad.

Mostest Contest

Talent, Beauty Judged

Piano and drum compositions, a dramatic reading, a Spike Jones pantomime, a banjo medley—these were a few of the many and varied forms of talent displayed February 15, 1966, at the Mostest Contest.

Serving as master and mistress of ceremonies for the evening were Mike Reilly and Jean Hubbard, Mr. and Miss AHHS. Candidates for Most Beautiful—Sheila Jordan, Linda Leonhart, and Marsland Buck—and Most Handsome—Mike Nelson, Bob Teague, and Scott Yankee—appeared in formal and informal attire during breaks in talent competition.

While the judges deliberated, Marlena Reiners, Most Talented winner of 1965, entertained the audience. Finally came the moment that everyone had waited for. Applause, shrieks, and tears greeted the winners of the Most Talented honors, Denise Bailey and Stephen Bruton, and Sheila Jordan and Scott Yankee in the Most Beautiful and Handsome category.

Ranch Day

Mule-Tide Season

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of the wildest Ranch Day in this hemisphere,
'Twas the twenty-seventh of January in '66,
There were chaps, spurs, and a few shooters six.

Some dressed as Roy Rogers, some the Indian Tonto,
But it was Clark Kent and Batman who stole the show!
There was the usual clowning, dancing, and singing,
Plus an added attraction called pie-slinging!

And so galloping away rode cowboys and steeds,
With thoughts of distant corrals and daring deeds.
For, borne on the night-wind of the Past,
Through all our history, to the last,
The people will waken and listen to hear
Of the wildest Ranch Day in this hemisphere!

"Boy, this sure is an efficient automat!" exclaims Tom Schieffer.

AY Talent Show

AY Heisters Steal Show

Featuring gifted Heightsters, Allied Youth presented its Fourth Annual Talent Show comprising 22 acts. Wayne Huepplesheuser, master of ceremonies, provided entertainment between the acts. The various talent numbers included soloists, folksinging groups, a jazz combo, a modern dance, and a comedy monologue. A crowd of AYers, faculty, and visitors from several Southwest high schools attended the two-hour program.

It's Only Skin-Deep

In befitting and elegant gowns, AY beauty contestants and their escorts paraded before an audience of self-appointed judges on March 3. Jim Carden and Larry Mathis, masters of ceremonies, introduced each raving beauty. Three representatives from each of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes vied for the coveted title. After the evening gown competition, the audience retired to the gym for voting and a reception with the beautiful and charming contestants. The evening ended with the announcement of the 1966 AY Beauty Queen, Bertha Ratliff.

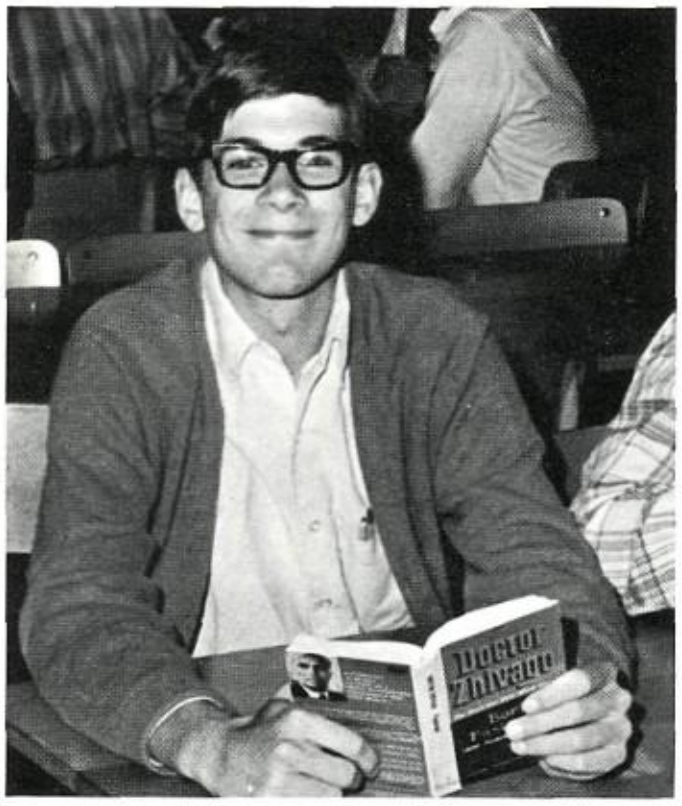
Lunchroom

Eaters' Digest

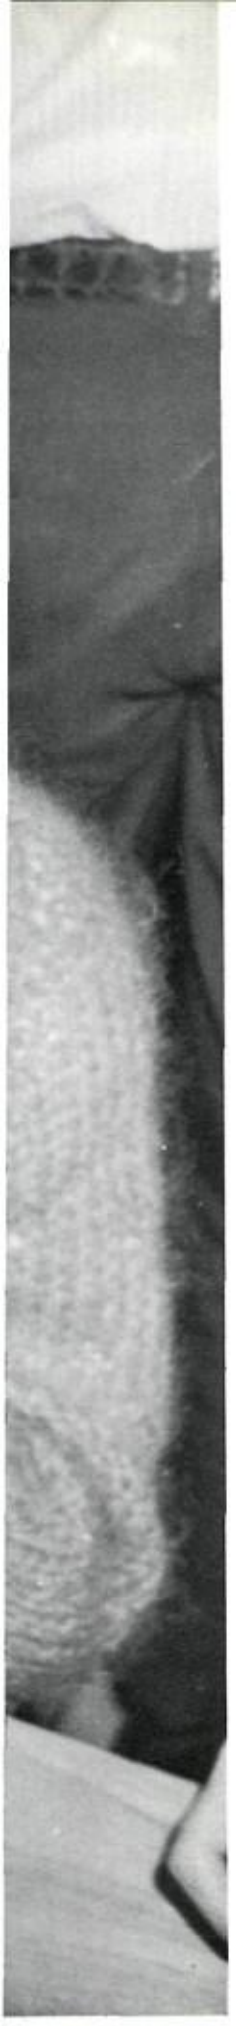
Every day 2,000 Heightsters awaited the 12:00 bell which marked the beginning of lunch. Supplying three lunch periods, the amount of food decreased noticeably each time. Amid the din of voices and clattering of knives and forks, students spent this 35 minutes in a variety of ways—catching up on homework, visiting with friends, and, like Kerry Kelly (right), eating. The final lunch period ended at 1:40, leaving a tremendous task ahead for the cafeteria staff.



"Like I always say, there's nothing like a good book at lunch for a novel experience," grins Fred Walter.

"Cleaning up this lunchroom looks like a job for the Dynamic Duo," says Mr. Herbert Krauss to his accomplice Mr. Archie Stevens.

"Nothing beats chocolate-covered 'chicky on a sticky,'" slurps Jackie Watson.



"If you close your eyes or think of something else, it doesn't taste as bad," exemplify Wayne Cornelius and Linda Kay Braly.

Year's Personality

1965-66 was a world of new things in fashion, sports, and entertainment. James Bond was running strong as Thunderball made a Christmas debut at the Hollywood Theater. The Bond season swept AHHS, and Christmas gift-giving centered around the 007 theme. Cologne and after shave sets, record albums, paperbacks, 007 dolls, and secret agent games were the rage gifts. The Bond movies gave rise to seven television thrillers, religiously viewed by AHHS students.

"Batman," premiering late on the ABC Network, began an era of "batmania." The Caped Crusader and his ward Robin supplied a topic of discussion among friends and in classrooms.

New and different fashion looks swept the campus. Paisley replaced Madras; saddle Oxfords and matching sweater and hose sets created a new look.

The unique happening this year, however, was the 28-0 victory over Paschal.

Bryan McMahon and Lynn Maddox walk down the stairs in their "rah-rah's." Michele McClure comes complete in her "total look." Paisley prints of Gary Stewart and Butch Purselley brighten the decor.

Council Produces Handbook, Programs

Using parliamentary procedure, the Student Council met monthly to discuss improvements and problems of the student body and school.

Advising the students were Mr. Glenn Mandeville, Mrs. Carol Hernandez, Mrs. Frances Caveness, Mr. Edwin Kahler, Mrs. Sara Brian, and Mrs. Glenna Fay Edwards.

Besides publishing a student handbook, projects included planning Howdy Week, the Ranch Day Program, and consideration of improvements for the lunchroom.

These tasks of the council were attained through the work of the Handbook, Decorations, Programs, Elections, Promotion, Special, Claims, Flower and Card, Hospitality, and Social Committees.

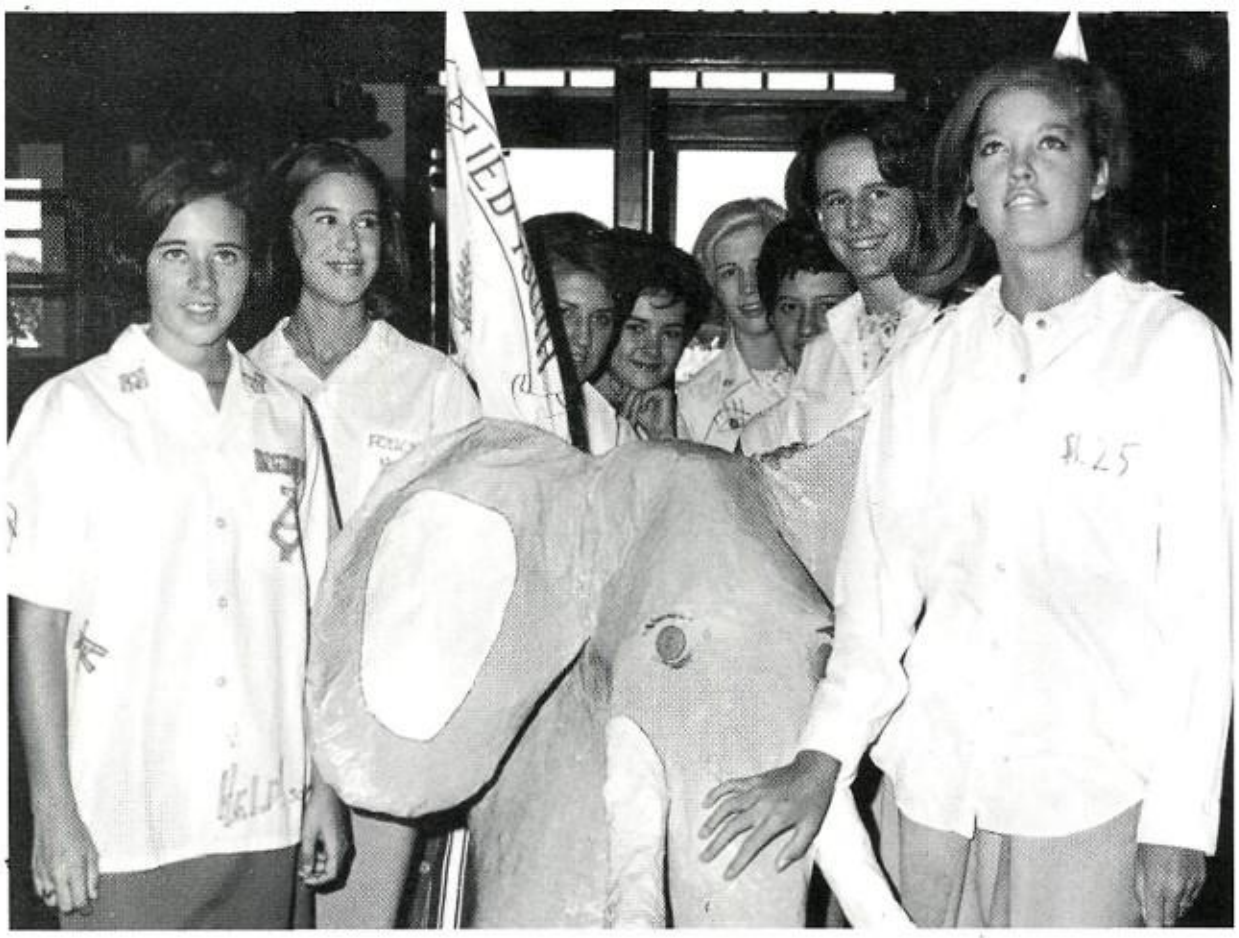
Allied Youth Combats Alcoholism



Pinkie, the AY elephant, poses with membership drive volunteers.

Almost one-half the population of the United States is affected by alcoholics and problem drinkers.

It was the purpose of Allied Youth to help combat this problem by informing its members about the harmful affects of alcohol. During the year, the group presented such speakers as Porter Randall, Charles Anderson, and Robert Willingham. Operation Teenager, a panel of four convicts from Huntsville Prison, provided an especially interesting program. They related from personal experiences how seemingly insignificant offenses can lead to habitual crime.

The year, however, was not all work. The AY Talent Show and Beauty Contest provided fun and entertainment for the members.

To give those with a flair for the theatre a hance to exhibit their abilities, Footlight Play-rs, under the supervision of Mrs. Rosemary urton, took part in play productions. As well as cting, crews gained experience in props, make-p, lighting and sound, scenery production, and tudent directing.

The year began with a sunrise breakfast where he club elected class representatives, presented kits, and participated in a hootenanny. Gather-ng once a month, the organization held a brief usiness meeting, followed by an entertainment eriod. Footlighters provided their own enter-inment by acting out plays and reciting dra-natic readings.

The major play of 1965-66 was "The Skin f Our Teeth", a combination of the annual ootlighters' and Senior Plays. Members of Foot-ght Players and the senior class presented the lay during spring senior activities.

"Rear, march!" Week-day and Saturday mornings, the school's Reserve Officers Training Corps Drill Team, Rifle Team, and Drum and Bugle Corps often heard this command. The object was to prepare for interscholastic competition. The 89 ROTC members, supervised by 11 sponsors and Sergeant Wardell, were divided into three classes—Military I, Military II, and Military III. The Special Forces acted in field maneuvers, one group attacking, the other defending.

Excellent training for future careers, the ROTC program also provided experience for possible military careers. Each person completing three years of high school ROTC may enter the service as a Private First Class. If he should continue ROTC in college, he may graduate and enter the service as a commissioned officer.

Yellow Jacket Evolves From Year's Toil

Let's have a big hand for Jean Hubbard, a real card.

Many preparations were necessary in order to produce the 1966 YJ. Each page began as a rough layout which had to be perfected and placed on the final triplicate. Pictures had to be planned, taken, cropped, and proportioned. Copy had to be gathered, written, and typed. Staffers had to write headlines and cutlines that would stimulate interest as well as tell the facts. Throughout all this, the book had to present clearly the theme on which it was based. On Annual Day the students witnessed the outcome of their efforts.

Three Jackets Named to All-Star Band

BAND OFFICERS: Melinda Walker, majorette; Joe Morrison, Drum Major; Jim Schutza, Band Captain; Erlene Bailes, majorette.

The 1965-66 Lab and Marching Bands exhibited versatility by combining outside activities with an academic course. Senior Richard Powell directed the lab band, organized eight years ago by Mr. George Carson. Three band members—Gary Sellers, Jim Worthy, and Richard Powell—were chosen for the All-Star Band in the Brownwood Stage Band Festival.

Mr. Carson completed his 24th year directing the AHHS Marching Band. Aside from the football games and pep rallies, the band performed at Open House, Fat Stock Show Parade, All-American City Parade, and W. C. Stripling and William Monnig Junior Highs. Participation in the Castleberry Band Festival, the AHHS Music Festival, a night concert at school, and recording of an album completed the band's activities.

Orchestra, Chorus Harmonize To Present Christmas Music

Orchestra

Under the direction of Mr. George Carson, the orchestra joined with the chorus department to present the Christmas program. Orchestral arrangements included "Christmas Overture," composed by Mr. Carson, "Jesu Bambino," and "Gloria." The orchestra entertained Stripling students with its annual concert by playing "Air for Orchestra," "Perpetual Motion," and selections from the "Sound of Music."

Along with orchestras from Monnig and Stripling Junior High Schools, the AHHS orchestra performed in the Spring Music Festival held at Arlington Heights and in the Young Artists' Program at Meacham Junior High.

The All-City Orchestra awarded positions to twenty-six members of the AHHS orchestra. This annual competition, judged on a point basis, required each participant to play a solo and scales and to sight read.

Chorus

The chorus, instructed by Mrs. Mary White, displayed its talent at functions for the school, city, and state. Its members began their season by singing "Getting to Know You" and "Cecilia" at Open House. Other performances included the TWC Choral Clinic, the Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies, the Monnig Choral Festival, and the Spring Choral program.

The Showcasers, composed of the Girls' Double Sextet and the Masters, the boys group, sang during Youth Appreciation Week at the Fort Worth Savings and Loan. They also performed for the Fireside Lodge and Kappa Kappa Iota at Christmas.

Pam Hill and Sue Pettit, members of the sextet, won positions in the All-State Choir. Victor Michels, a member of the Masters, won the Leo Potishman Prize in the all-City Chorus.

Wishing Well Revitalizes JRC Campaign

JRC officers are Jean Hubbard, president; Cindy Willoughby, secretary; Sarah Murray, treasurer, and Bitsey Cirkal, not pictured, vice-president.

This year a new and highly successful idea was used to help raise money for the Red Cross. Set up right before the Paschal game, the "Wish Upon a Star" booth enabled contributors to throw their money into the simulated wishing well. Together with the homeroom contributions, $188 was raised. The organization used this money to buy toothpaste, toothbrushes, soap, washrags, and playground equipment for needy overseas children.

Junior Red Cross singers and dancers entertained patients at Carswell Air Force Base Hospital during the Christmas season. Children at many hospitals throughout the city received Christmas stockings made by the JRC.

FNA Explores Field of Nursing

Future Nurses of America, sponsored by Mrs. Mary Fisher, R.N., furnished an opportunity for high school girls to explore nursing and its career opportunities. Meeting once a month, with films and speeches presented by doctors and nurses, the girls received information on related health fields and modern treatments and methods. One field trip to a hospital allowed them to see facilities and nursing procedures in operation.

Mrs. Mary Fisher, FNA sponsor, pauses during her many duties as school nurse to confer with Mrs. Christine Richards.

Charlotte Hoffman and Charlene Smith prepare place cards for the FNA banquet.

Future Teachers Plan Projects

Future Teachers of America sought to interest young people in the field of teaching. Meeting each month with their sponsor, Miss Dona Stovall, the members organized committees to plan projects and promote membership. During Public Schools Week they did a bit of "apple polishing" and placed shiny apples with name tags on each teacher's desk. The varied activities of the club included films and speeches on teaching procedures, attendance at several yearly conferences, and field trips, such as the one to the underground high school at Lake Worth.

FSA Teaches Business Techniques

Future Secretaries of America, under the administration of Trinity Chapter National Secretaries Association, sought to interest girls in a career in the business world.

Meeting on the first Monday of each month, the club was open to any girl enrolled in at least one business education course—typing, shorthand, or bookkeeping. The organization, sponsored by Mrs. Mary Lynn Foust and Miss Hazel Nelson, had their yearly installation after midterm. Throughout the year films on career opportunities and speeches comprised the majority of the club's activities. Through participation in Future Secretaries, young girls gained knowledge of self-sufficiency and good sense in the business world.

DE Supplies On-the-Job Training

As an employee of Tandy Leather Company, DE Sweetheart Judy Richardson types files and does other general office work.

Providing experience for future business men and women, the AHHS Chapter of Distributive Education Clubs of America furnished valuable training. Earning three credits for taking DE, students left school at noon to work at local businesses.

Sponsored by Mrs. Junetta Lay, DECA members installed officers in the spring. Judy Richardson served as their 1965 sweetheart.

"I knew I could taste oysters in that," squeals Suzanne Godley triumphantly as Kathy Grubbs comes up with a pearl.

Club Offers Study of German Life

GERMAN CLUB OFFICERS: Jerry Poplin, vice-president; Marcia Weid, program chairman; Johnny Winter, president; Mrs. Joan Meyer, sponsor; Judy Maske, secretary.

Sponsored by Mrs. Joan Meyer, German language students organized a new club at AHHS. Meeting once a month, the German Club offered its members an opportunity to study the culture and life of Germany. A Christmas party featuring German food and eating at Johnny Winter's house added interest for the members. Guest speaker, Mrs. Helga Plenk, rounded out their activities as a first-year organization.

Book Jackets Win Convention Offices

The AHHS chapter of the Book Jackets, guided by Mrs. Mary Hood, included library assistants.

Activities began with the installation of officers in the spring and selling book marks during the school year. After their annual Christmas party, members took a Christmas tree to the Children's Hospital. The group also attended conventions on the state and district levels. Elected to district and state offices were Lorenda Webb, district secretary, and Nancy Rux, state historian.

A charter member of the Teen-Age Library Association, Book Jackets offered an opportunity for library workers to fraternize.

BOOK JACKET OFFICERS: Laura Brown, vice-president; Mary Morris, president; Susan Brown, treasurer; Rachel Morris, historian.

Sponsor of the Book Jackets for nine years, Mrs. Mary Hood looks through periodical files for term theme materials helpful to junior and senior students.

Young Scientists Probe Unknown

Sponsored by Mr. Flavin Arseneau, the Science Research Group conducted various experiments during the year. The group, consisting of eleven students, traveled to Padre Island during the summer to collect bacteria specimens.

The Science Fair also interested the young scientists. Believing that quality is better than quantity, only a few entered because of the shortage of time. Researchers worked on their projects before school in Mr. Arseneau's biology room. As in the past seven years, the government granted $5,000 to the group for this research.

The group devoted hours of time and a great deal of patience to perform this research. Their reward was a better understanding of science and invaluable experience.

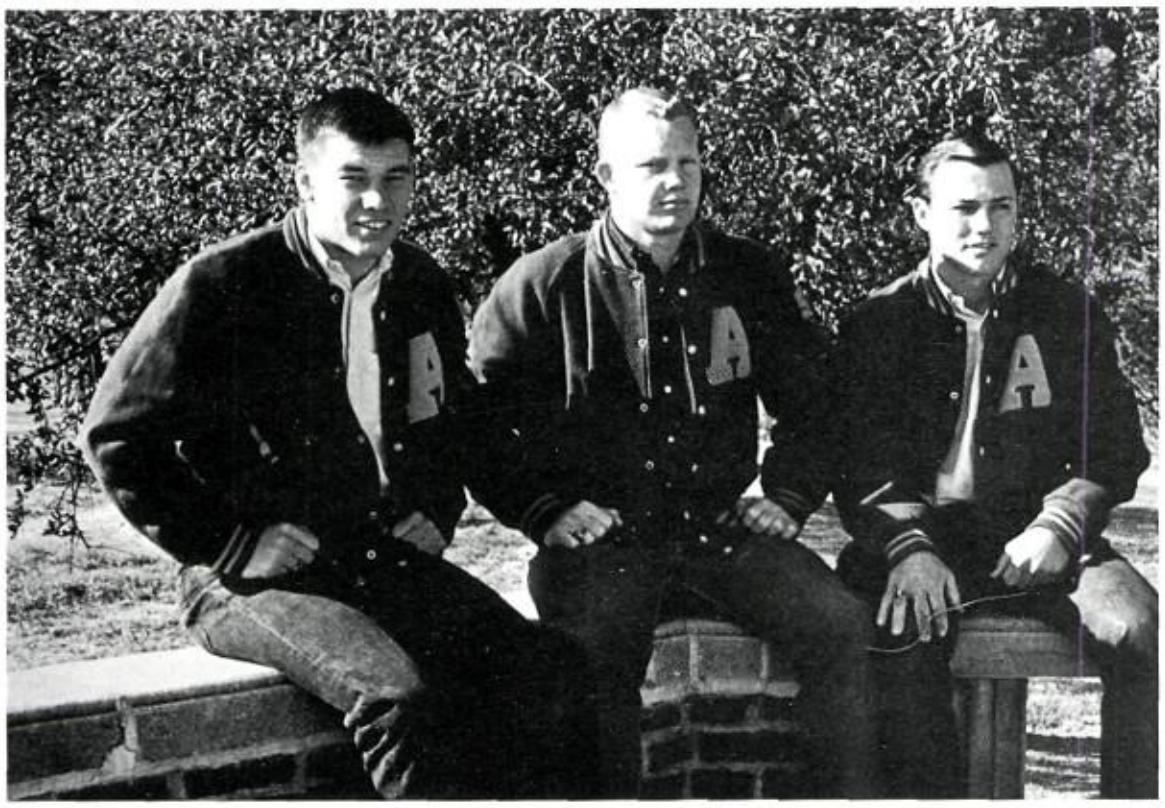
'A' Club Boys Buy Equipment, Give Breakfast



Seated left to right are the 1965-66 "A" Club officers, Ted Fay, secretary; Mike Stinson, president; Mike Reilly, treasurer.

The "A" Club, consisting of the lettermen at AHHS, linked all phases of sports. Lettermen in football, basketball, baseball, track, golf, and tennis could become members of this club. Besides donating money for sports equipment, they sponsored a breakfast for the faculty during the Christmas season. Coach Homer Ludiker sponsored the group.

New Club Designed to Further Math

Newly formed this year, the Math Club fulfilled the threefold purpose of furthering knowledge, stimulating interest, and preparing students for later study in mathematics.

The group, consisting of 29 members and sponsored by Mr. Herbert Krauss, Mrs. Elva Lerrett, and Mrs. Sara Brian, met every six weeks. Each member was required to participate in at least one project to remain in good standing. Through study of more difficult concepts, they prepared themselves for a future in mathematics and its related fields.

Overcoming a shortage of experienced players, the Yellow Jacket gridmen won their first district championship in 14 years. Coaches Homer Ludiker, Merlin Priddy, and Dale Walker instructed the team to a perfect 6-0 district record.

The 7-3-1 season began dismally with a scoreless tie to Dallas W. T. White and failures to Austin McCallum and Dallas Hillcrest. Fighting back, the fiery squad toppled Waco Richfield in a 21-15 decision.

Following close games with Tech, Carter, and Poly, the Jackets gained momentum to complete the slate with three shutouts. North Side slipped in the mud, falling 20-0 to the elusive playmakers. Paschal not only handed the Jackets a glory-filled 28-0 victory, but the title crown as well. AHHS iced the title cake by a 10 point lead over Eastern Hills in the final moments of the game.

Any aspirations which the team may have had for greener pastures were crushed in the rematch with Dallas Hillcrest in the bi-district meet, 24-0.

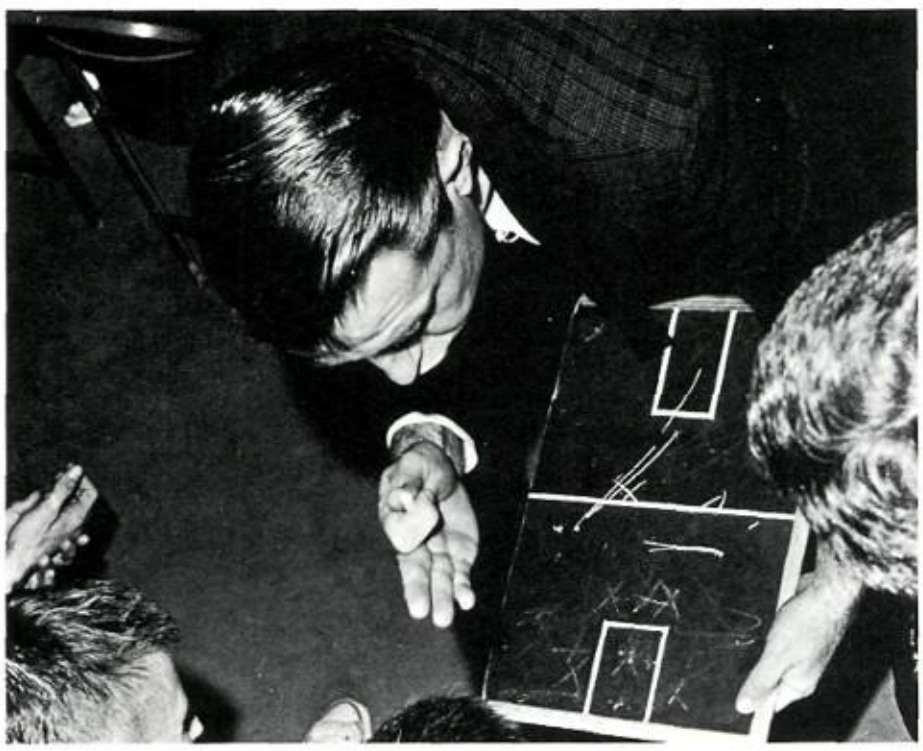
Senior Duet Sparks 6-5 Cage Record



Jacket starters listen to the defensive strategy of Coach Joe Prater.

Returning without experienced players, the 1965-66 Yellow Jacket basketball team compiled a 6-5 district record. Supervised by Coach Joe Prater, the team finished preseason games with a 2-8 record, but proved tougher in district play. Early in district combat, the spirited Jackets achieved one of the major upsets of the season by dumping Poly, 48-43. Eric Chase, one of the two seniors on the team, captured a place on the second all district team. The other senior, Mike Ritchie, received as great an honor by crowning Senior Theresa Corley Basketball Queen during the basketball pep rally.

Track Coach Hood's Dream Team Arrives

SPRINT RELAY: Pat Potter, Jack Wilemon, Walker Norvell, Billy Gunn.

Under the leadership of Coach Don Hood, who coached the 1965 Bi-District Champs, the 1966 track team retained many of the score-makers.

Distance men—Chris Carter, Curtis Kleven, and David Redwine—ran in summer and fall cross-country meets. Besides John Walker, who placed fifth and sixth in state discus and shot put, other participants in these events were Tom Borgeson and Mike Fox. Sprinters in the 440 relays included veteran runners Jack Wilemon, Billy Gunn, Walker Norvell, and Don Mansir. Lettermen Pat Amos and Don Mansir led the mile relays. Other returning members included pole vaulter Terry Austin and broad jumper Brooks Harrington. A new addition to the team, Gary Baldwin, strengthened the team in the pole vault event. With these able team members, the 1966 track team captured many first, second, and third places in area meets.

Blessed with several outstanding individuals, the tennis teams performed well in district competition. The boys' team, instructed by Coach Dayton Carter, included two state-ranked juniors, Kenny McMillan and Johnny Williams, who placed third in the state boys' doubles in 1965.

Mrs. Martha Austin supervised the girls' team, lead by sophomore Mary Lowdon. Prominent juniors backing the team were Vicki Hedge and Wynn Cooper. With able leadership and instruction, both 1965-66 tennis teams promised excellent seasons.

Jacket baserunners used strenuous practice as a backbone for their hardball strategy. With seven returning lettermen and a field of 20 other contenders, the chances of a winning season looked good. Remembering the 1965-10-2 season record, the Jackets welcomed the 1966 season with added pitching and batting power.

Beginning with a total of 16 pre-season games, the basemen jumped into district action April 1 with a die-hard attitude towards relinquishing any game to opposing 4A-5 rivals.

Always anticipating a hole-in-one or a slice into the rough, the 1966 golf team practiced on their form in preparation for tournament competition. In early fall practice matches, the Yellow Jacket team defeated North Side, Carter, Eastern Hills, Paschal and Poly with their only loss in one match with Paschal. Intrasquad matches determined the top five golfers for competition. The team, which included six returning lettermen, received instruction from Coach Mike Richardson.

Mike Reilly
Mr. AHHS

Elected by the entire student body, Mr. AHHS and Miss AHHS are seniors traditionally maintaining an image of high quality in the minds of students and faculty.

Qualifications for this high honor include outstanding qualities of leadership and service, no grade below C in academic work and E in citizenship.

Jean Hubbard
Miss AHHS

Jean and Mike Earn Top Honors

Vivacious head cheerleader, Jean supported AHHS spirit as a yell-leader throughout high school. A Sophomore Favorite finalist, Jean was elected favorite her junior year. Having served as President of Junior Red Cross and Publicity Chairman of YCF, she also participated in AY and FTA for three years. An honor student, she earned the Leonard's Award and membership in the "J" Club.

Jean, in addition to her other activities, contributed to the 1966 Yellow Jacket as Personalities Editor.

Mike participated in various sports, including football, basketball, and baseball. He was elected football captain by his teammates. A member of the "J" Club, Mike was also a sports writer for the Jacket Journal. Three years in AY and YCF as well as membership in the "A" Club and the Student Council for two years enabled Mike to take an active part in the many phases of student life on the Hill. Excelling in scholarship, leadership, and service, Mike Reilly and Jean Hubbard have continued to stand high in the opinions of their fellow classmates.

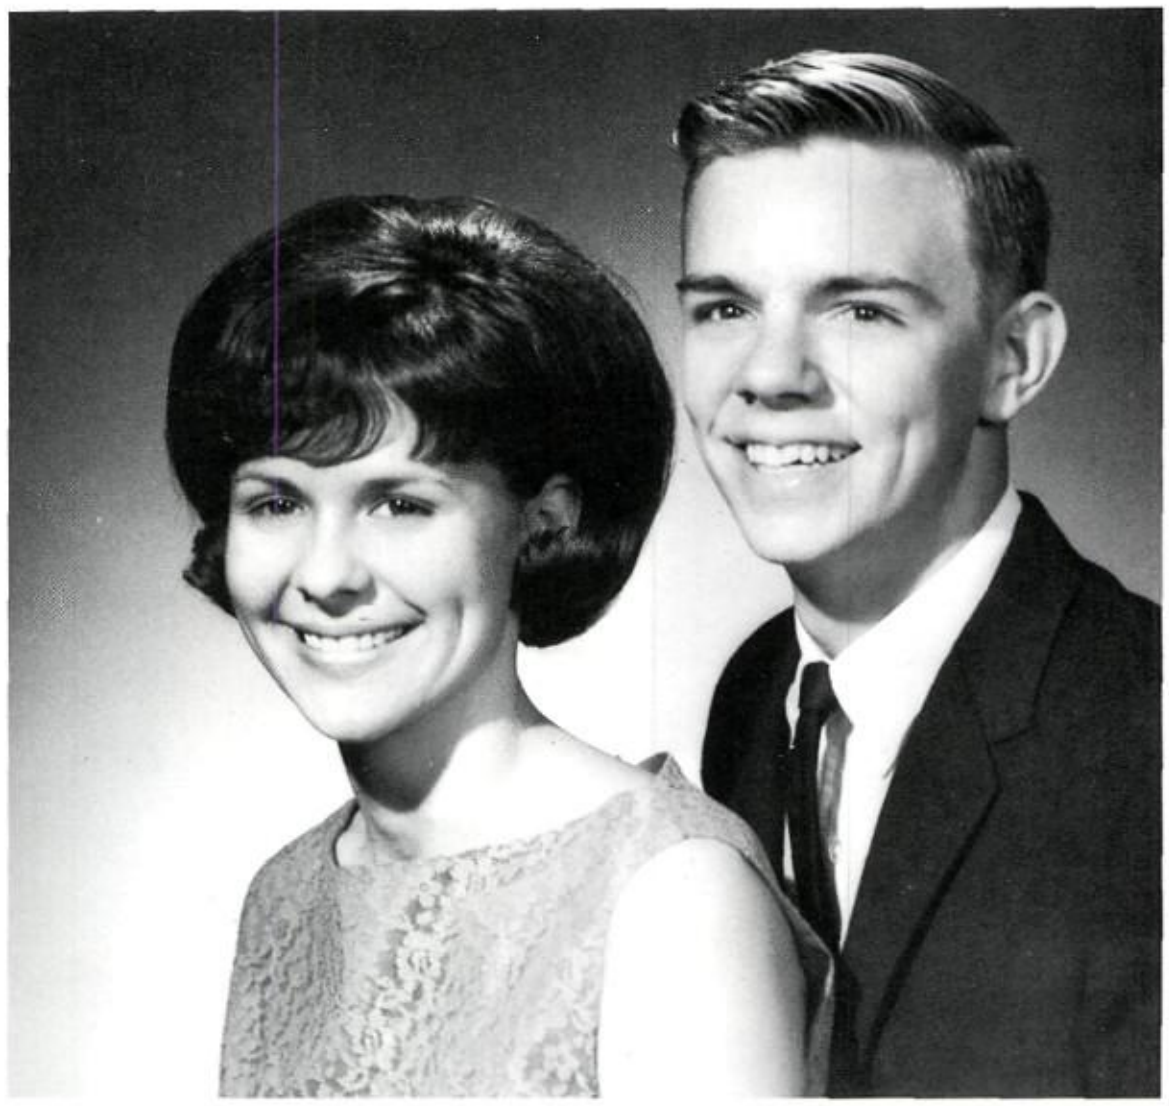
Ted Fay

Both Junior Favorite Runners-Up, Debbie and Ted have had a variety of interests. Debbie, the 1965-66 Homecoming Queen, served as senior alternate cheerleader and secretary of the Sportsmanship Committee. Experience in homeroom offices aided Debbie in her capacity as secretary of the senior class. Debbie participated in the activities of GIC, FTA, AY, and Footlight Players as well as the Young Citizens Forum Executive Committee. She maintained excellent grades to earn the Leonard's Award. Vice-president of the "A" Club, Ted played football and baseball all three years at AHHS. Chosen to the All-District football team, the quarterback received the Most Valuable 4A-5 Player Award. An AY and Student Council member, Ted has also served as homeroom president. Memberships in the "J" Club proved the worthiness and dependability of Debbie and Ted.

Linda Kay Braly
Tim Carpenter



Both Linda Kay and Tim actively supported AY throughout their three years at AHHS. Linda Kay, a Buck Hill Falls conference delegate her sophomore year, served as vice-president in AY. FTA claimed her as vice-president and parliamentarian. Homeroom secretary for two years, Linda Kay received the Leonard's Award and membership in "J" Club. Also a DAR finalist, she has assisted the Student Council for one year. Tim, a three-year member of AY, added his ideas to the Executive Council. A cheerleader for three years, he served as head yell leader for the squad. Also a homeroom president, Tim managed the Special Projects Committee of the Student Council, and his position as president of YCF enabled him to become a "J" Club member.

Cheerleaders Uphold Year's Spirit

Melissa Skiles
Jeff Emrich

Arlington Heights cheerleaders bolstered school spirit and rallied support for the year's athletic teams. Qualifications for junior and senior positions included no grade below C in each subject for the six weeks period preceding spring elections. The leaders could have no grade below E in citizenship for the two six weeks periods preceding election time. The sophomore cheerleaders, elected in the fall, must have attained an average of E in citizenship and an academic average of at least C during the preceding semester. Miss Helen Hale, cheerleader sponsor, trained her squad and strengthened the feeling of companionship.

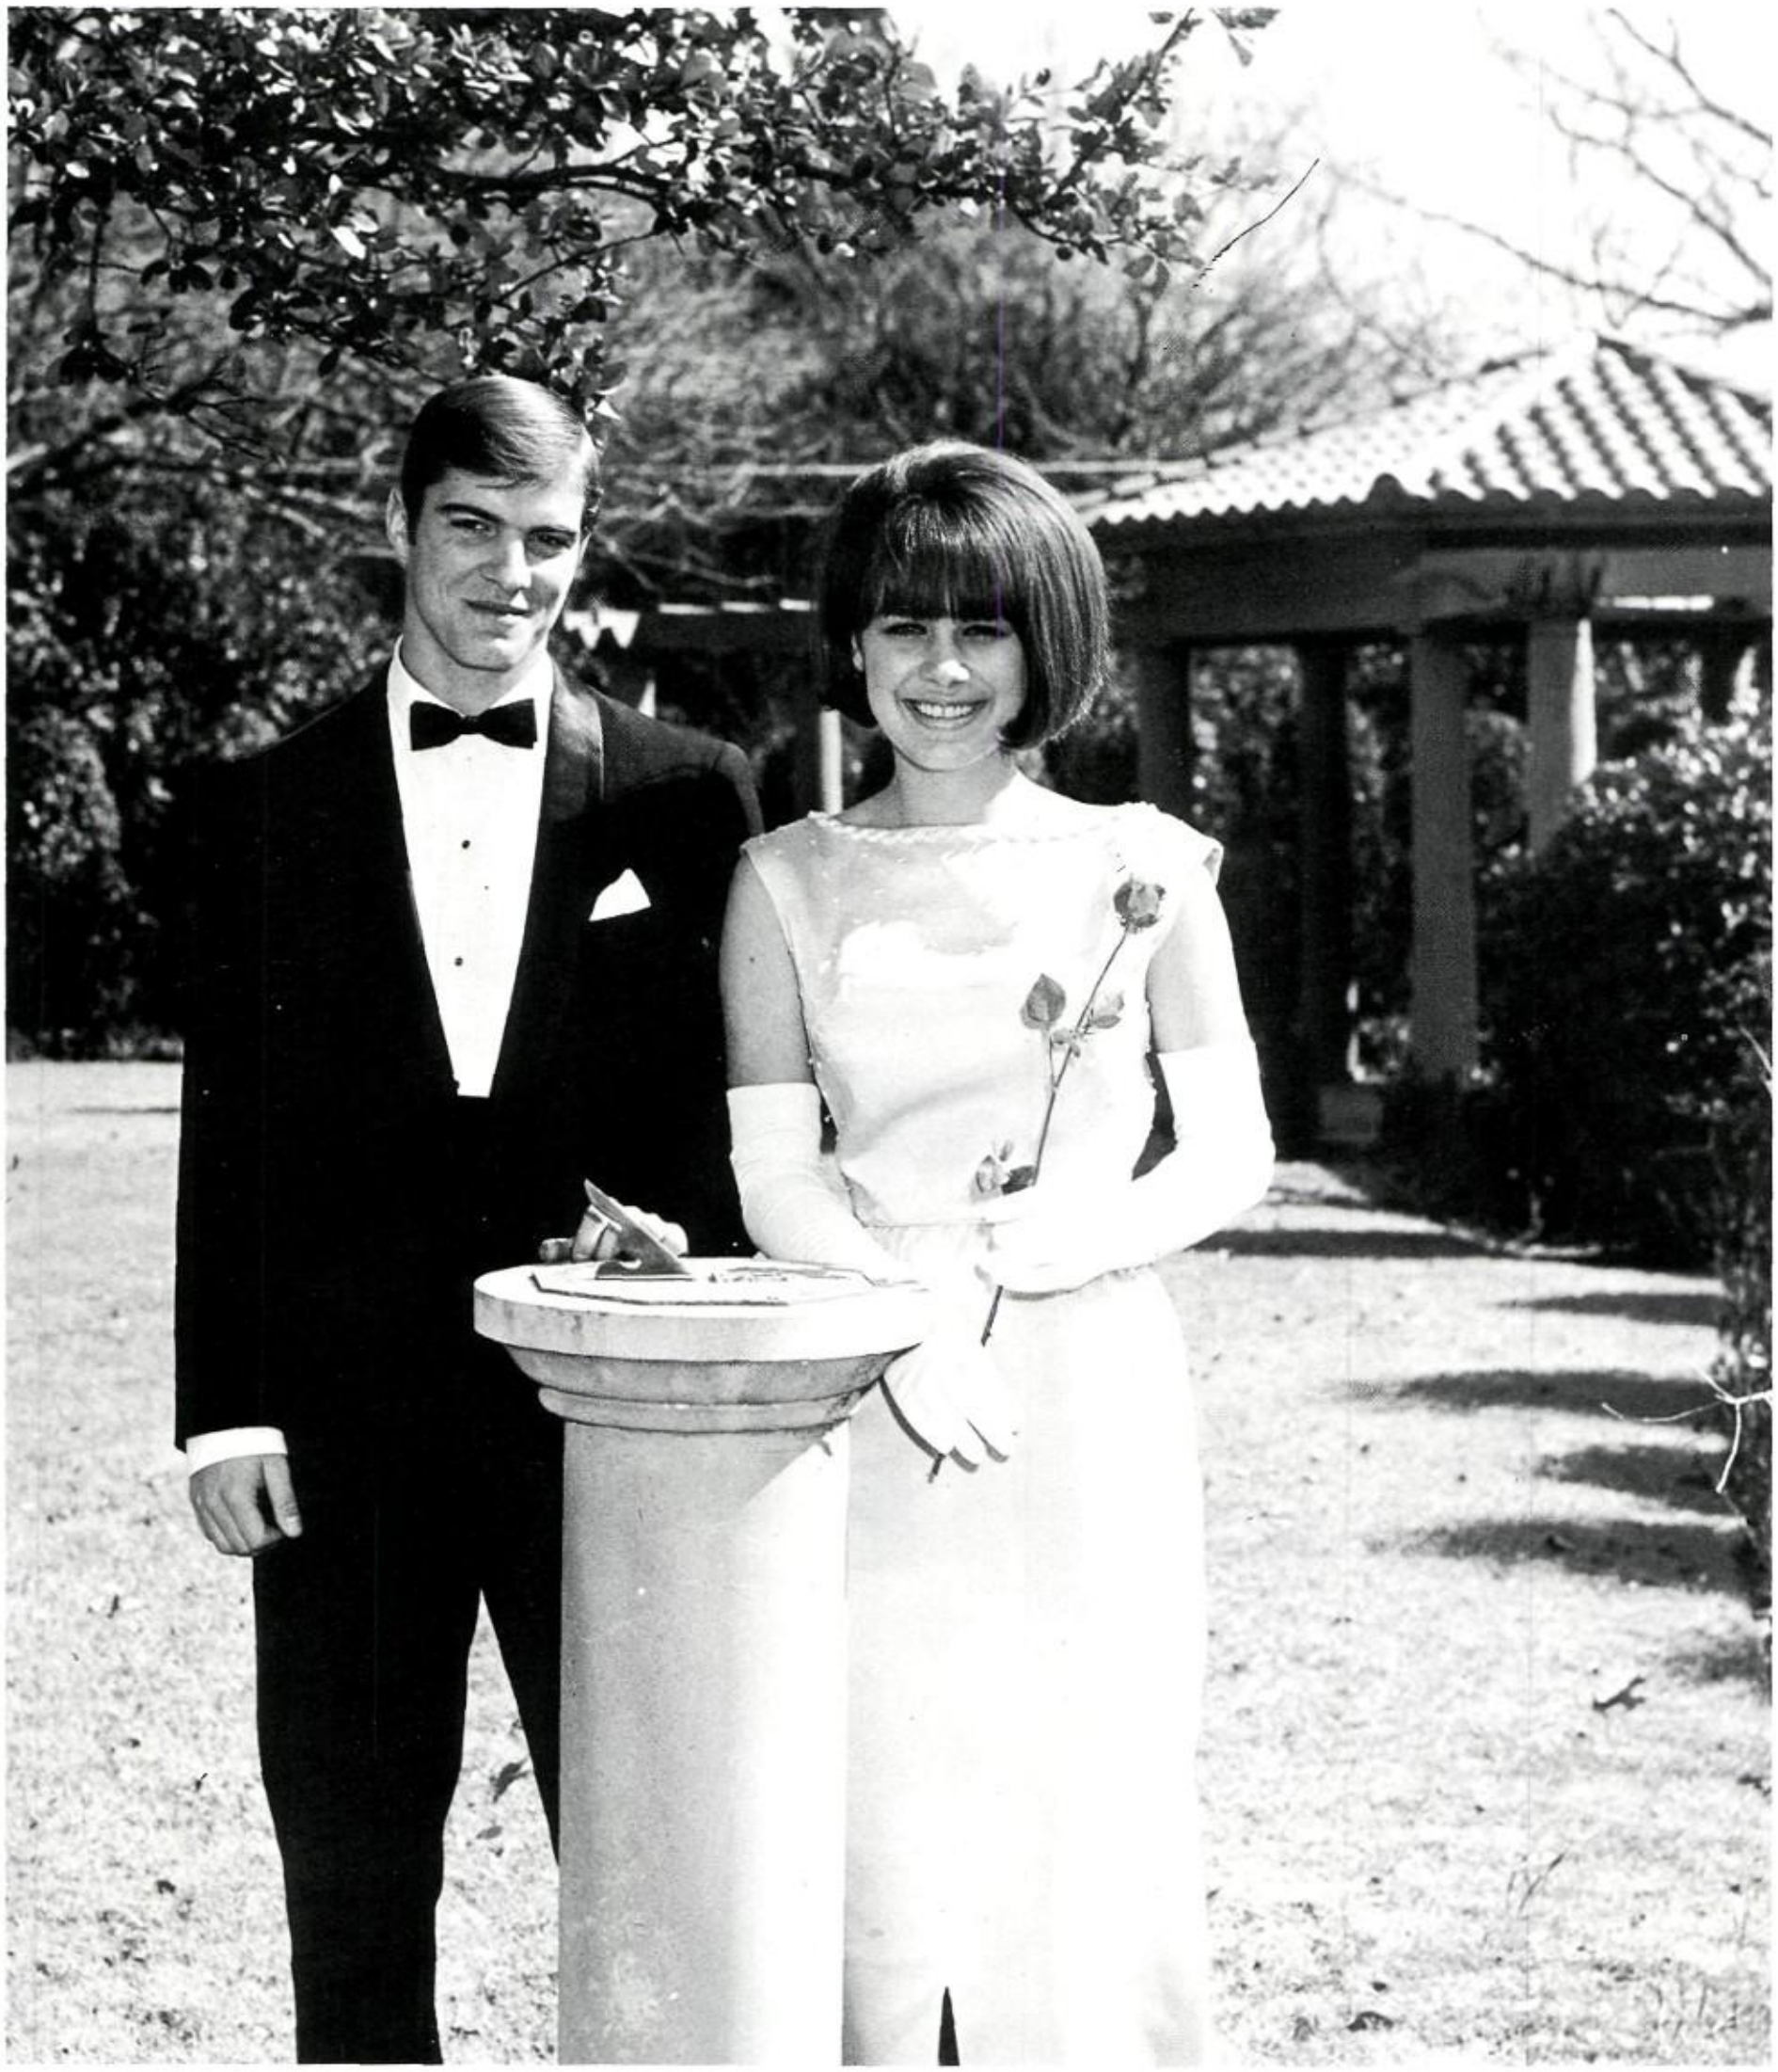
Homecoming Queen

Debbie Campbell

The lights of Farrington Field shone brighter as past Student Council President Warren Russell presented 1965-66 Homecoming Queen Debbie Campbell. Her election having been announced by the Jacket Journal, Debbie received a mum at the pep rally preceding the AHHS-Eastern Hills game. During half-time Student Council President Tom Schieffer escorted her onto the field where Warren gave her the traditional red roses.

Most Handsome Most Beautiful



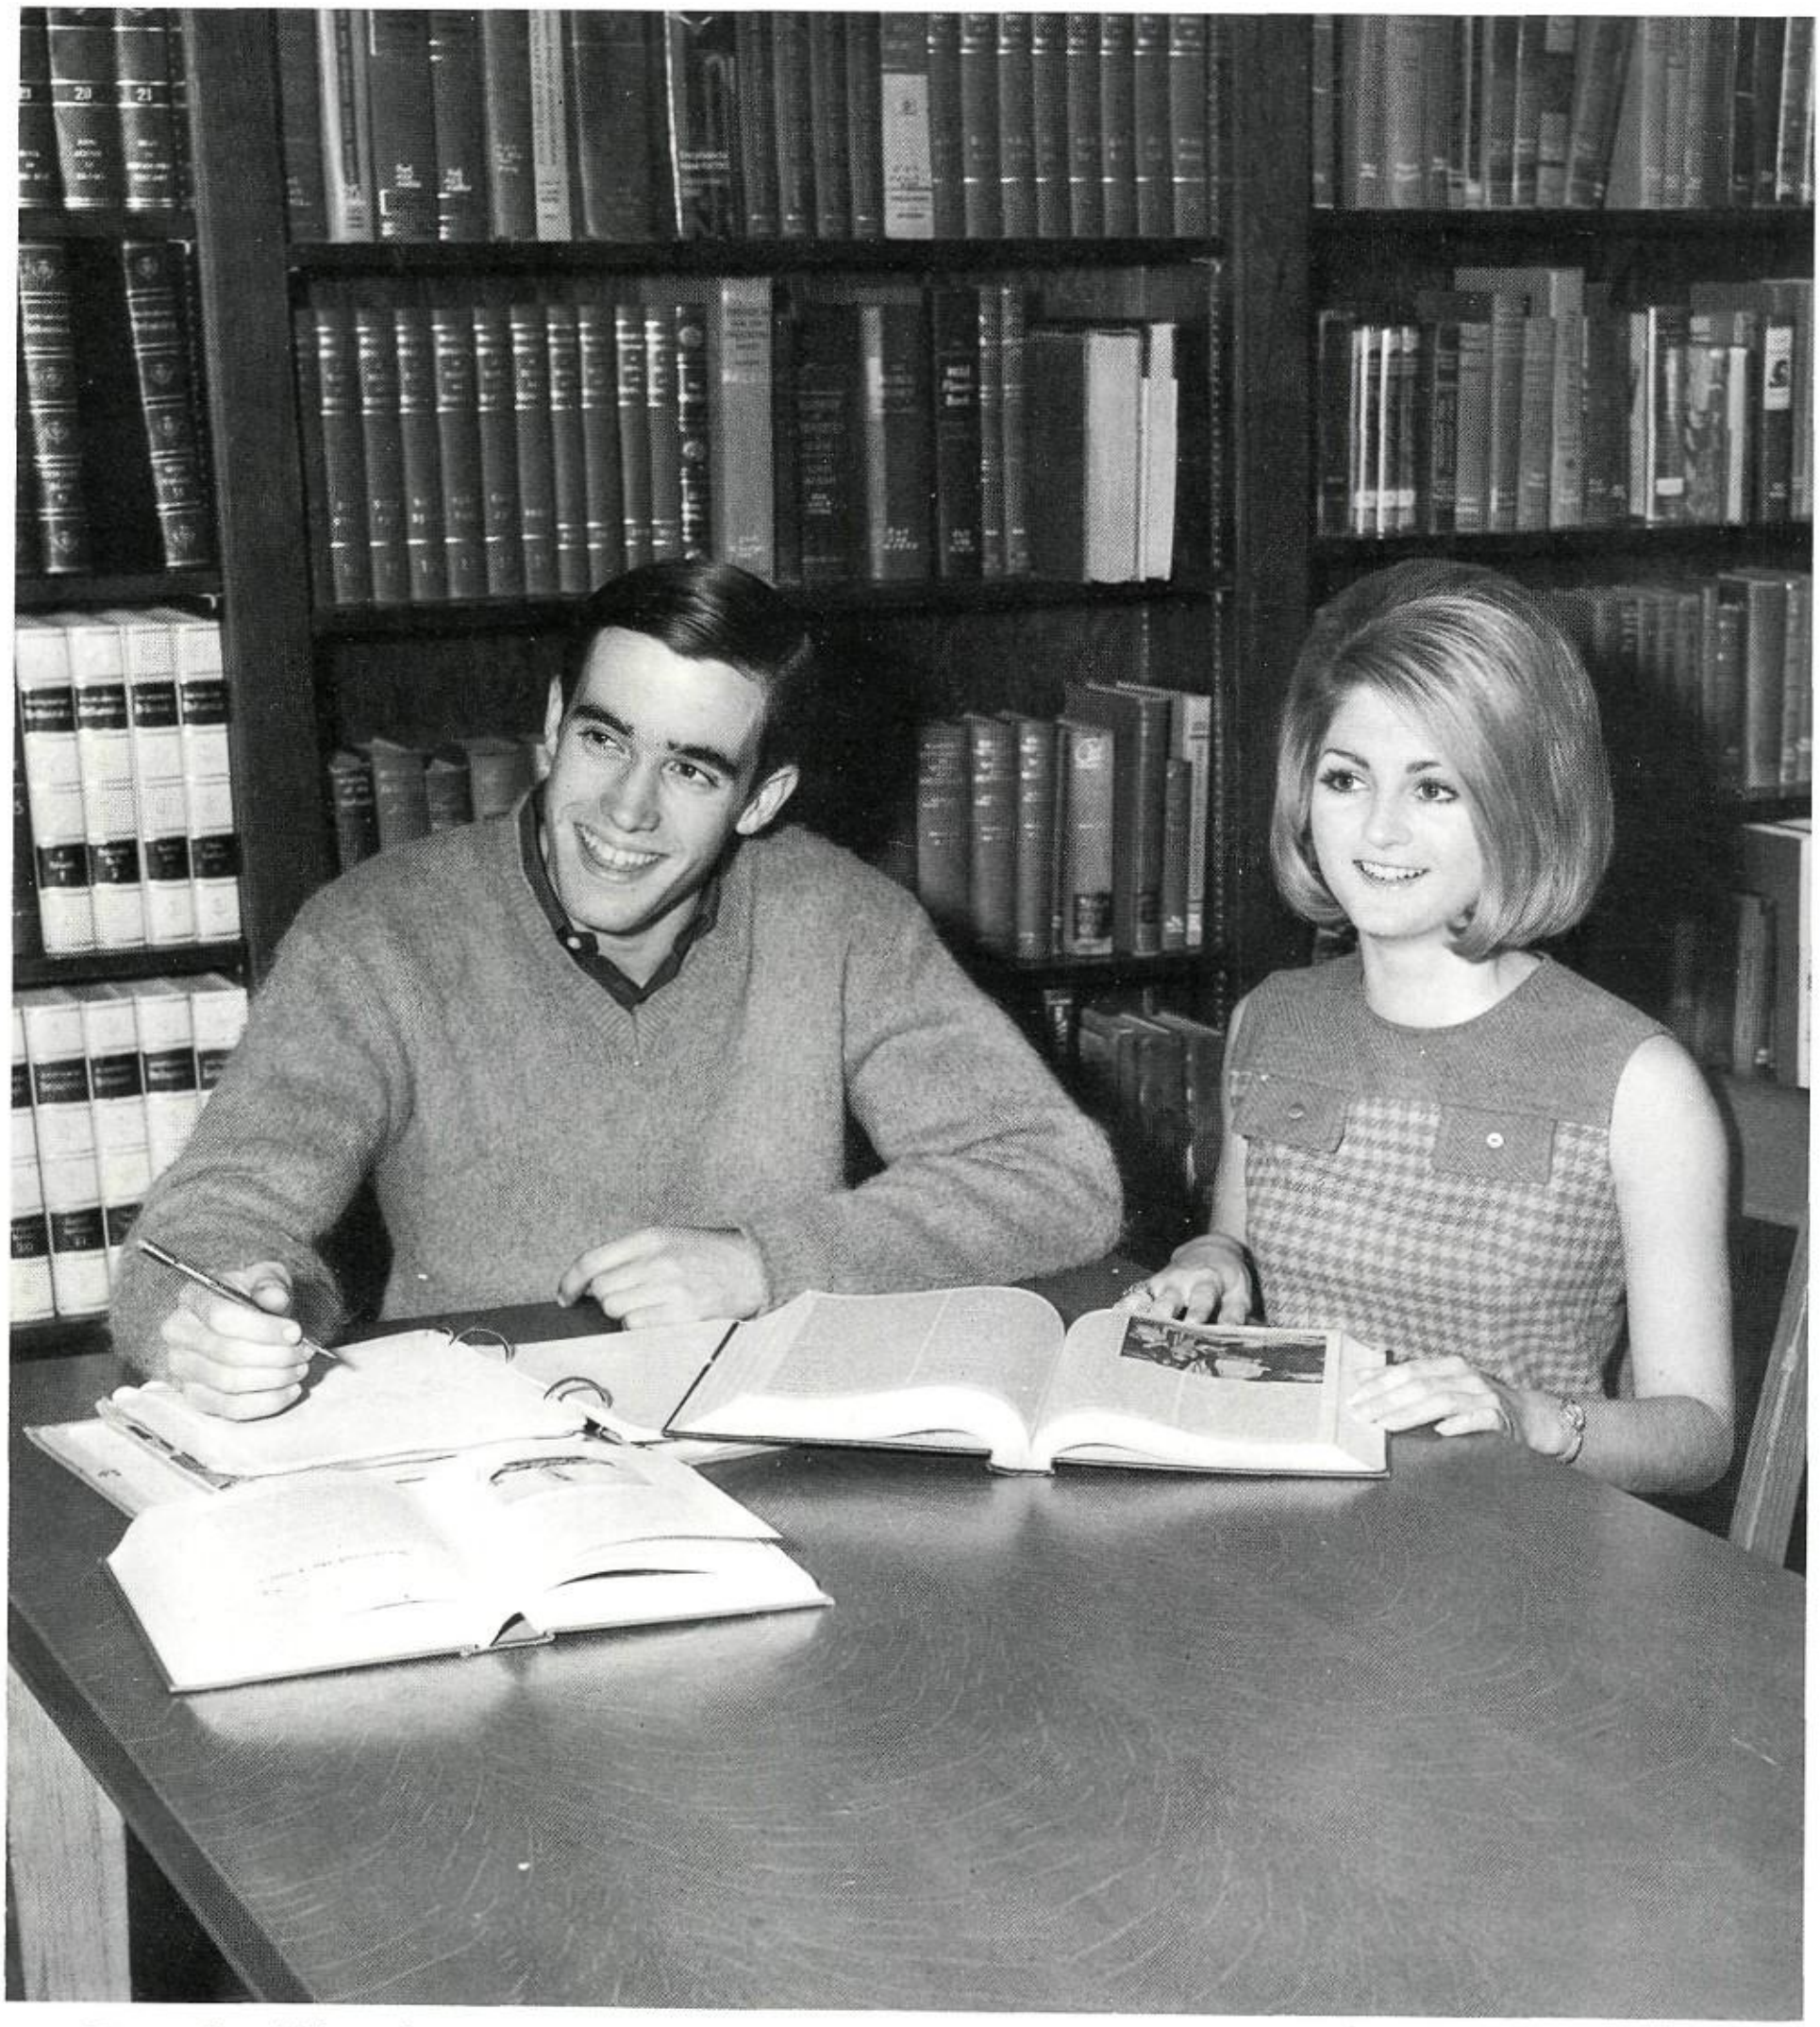
Scott Yankee

Five prominent Fort Worthers judged Scott Yankee Most Handsome in the Fourth Annual Mostest Contest. Previously elected by the student body, the other finalists were Mike Nelson and Bob Teague.

Shelia Jordan

Three Most Beautiful finalists—Marsland Buck, Shelia Jordan, and Linda Leonhart—appeared in both informal and formal attire. After the decision of the judges, Shelia and Scott received trophies.

Most Studious



Brooks Harrington

Serving as sports editor provided Brooks with experience for his position as editor of the Jacket Journal. A track letterman, he acquired the Leonard's Award two years.

Debbie Campbell

Secretary of the Senior Class, Debbie received the Leonard's Award twice. She was a two-year member of the "J" Club, maintaining an A average while at AHHS.

Most Talented

Denise Bailey

Accompanying herself on the guitar, Denise Bailey sang "Bamboo" and "Beneath the Willow" in the contest. Having had no formal training, she had previously appeared professionally.

Stephen Bruton

Showing versatile talents, Stephen Bruton played his rendition of "Blue Grass Medley" on the banjo and "Halfway Original Composition" on the guitar to become Most Talented Boy.

Most Friendly

Butch Purselley

Fellow students elected Butch both Sophomore and Junior Favorite. His warm smile and sense of humor attributed to his likeable personality, well known around school.

Toni Leech

Senior cheerleader Toni Leech, who was Howdy Queen and Most Friendly Girl as a Sophomore, again received the Most Friendly title her senior year.

Most Athletic

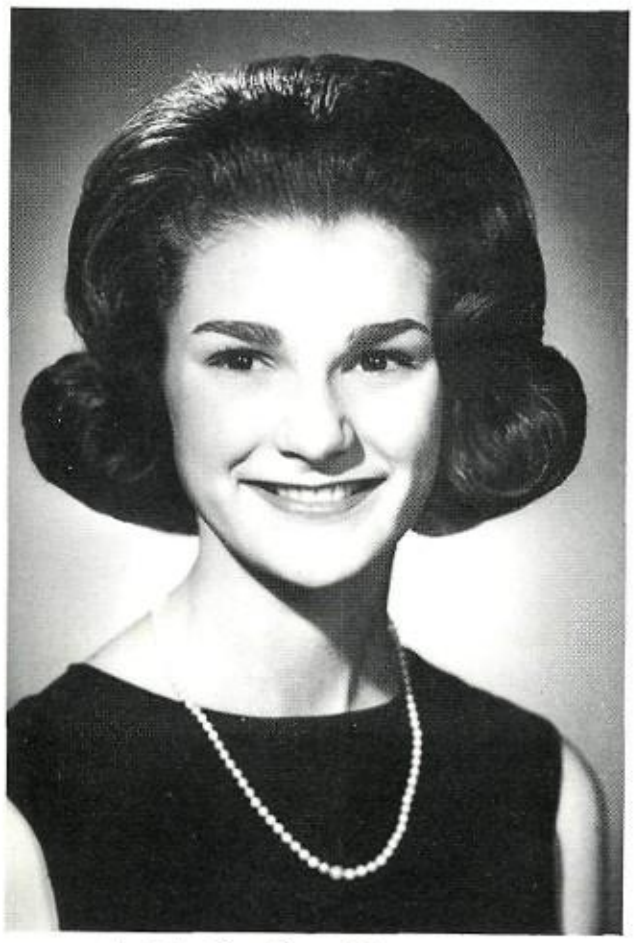
Pati Dickey

Actively participating in GIC for three years, Pati received two letters. Although she played a variety of sports in advanced P.E., Pati specified volleyball as her favorite sport.

Ted Fay

Vice-President of the "A" Club, Ted showed his versatility in sports by his activity in football, basketball, and baseball. The All-District quarterback won All-State Honorable Mention.

Seniors Excel in Various Fields



Michele Sears

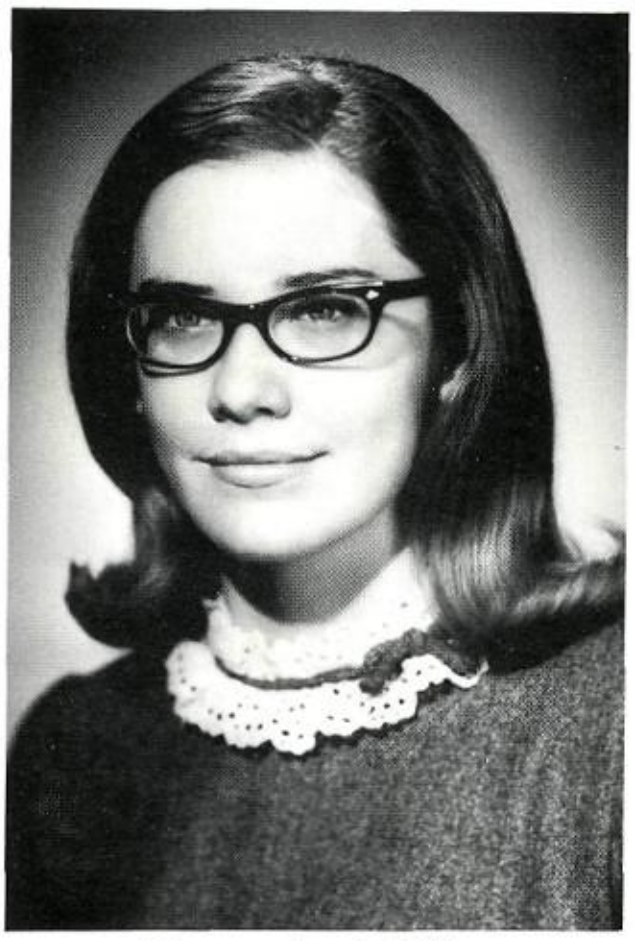
DAR

On the basis of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism, the faculty selected Michele Sears to receive the 1965 Daughters of the American Revolution Award. Senior homerooms nominated eighteen girls for the honor who met the qualifications of a citizenship grade of A each semester since their sophomore year and E in citizenship the first two six weeks of their senior year. After seniors voted, teachers decided the winner from three finalists. Michele represented Arlington Heights at a spring program for Tarrant County DAR winners and competed for an all-state award.

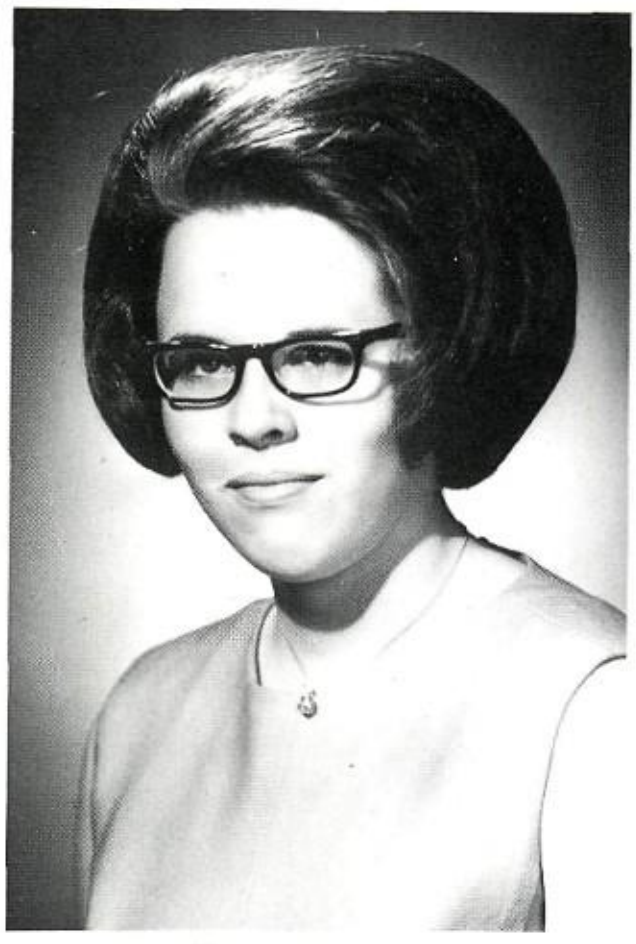
ROTC

John Welch received the highest title available to high school cadets, that of all-city colonel. To achieve this, John competed against four other cadets from various Fort Worth high schools. Judges from the Texas Christian University ROTC department interviewed the aspirants who took a 3-hour written examination. As a result of his appointment, John assisted in ROTC parades and drills.

John Welch



Pamela Hill



Sue Pettit

Chorus

Pam Hill and Sue Pettit, who sang first and second sopranos respectively, earned All-State Chorus positions out of nearly two hundred singers who auditioned for the honor. After auditions including tests of tone, breath control, general musicianship, memory, knowledge of music, and sight reading, judges evaluated points the students were awarded and selected winners. For their accomplishments, Pam and Sue were to memorize all of the All-State music and sing for the Texas Music Educators Association in Dallas.

Seven Honored as Test Finalists

Seven seniors—Bill Atkinson, Carolyn Earle, Pete Gilfeather, Ken Hardee, Hugh Moffatt, Brett Nelson, and Gary Williams—were National Merit Scholarship Finalists for 1965-66. The AHHS students were among the more than 14,000 semi-finalists from over 17,600 schools throughout the country, as well as other scholarship-granting institutions.

They qualified for the finals after scoring equally as high on the College Entrance Examination Board test as they had on the National Merit Qualifying Test which they took as juniors. National Merit Scholars, who were chosen from the finalists, were considered on the basis of academic and citizenship grades, extracurricular activities, and qualities of leadership. Recipient Bill Atkinson was not pictured.

12 Seniors Spotlighted

Each sponsor of AHHS organizations nominated seniors from his area. To be eligible, two recommendations were required. Grades were checked on nominees, and only those with A's in citizenship their sophomore and junior years, E's this year, and no grade below C in any subject for three years gained eligibility. Seniors voted on the final ballot.

Students Decide Worthy Finalists

In 1933 the Yellow Jacket established the Class Favorite Contest to recognize the most popular personalities at AHHS. On January 26 of this year homerooms received ballots of the candidates nominated in the Dean's office. Each student voted for his favorites in his classification. This vote determined the six class favorites and six finalists.

Faculty

Education is a challenging profession which brings both continuous frustration and deep satisfaction. The teaching staff and administrators of a school must deal with cooperative and difficult students, those who desire knowledge and those who simply fill a chair. Associated with youth each day, a dedicated teacher discovers the rewards of sharing the mysteries of learning.

Besides the daily chores that educators perform, extra-curricular activities occupy much of their time. A dependable teacher guides an organization; a conscientious administrator supports the school's activities. Teaching is not a profession one walks away from at 3:40, but one which becomes part of a person's life. The 1965-66 faculty was such a dedicated group.

An enthusiastic basketball fan, Mr. Jack Martin, counselor, rarely missed a Heights game.

Administration Undergoes Change

AHHS was designated the pilot school for a new and speedier attendance program. A simpler card-and-number system spared the office the agonies of daily absentee sheets.

Mr. Glenn Mandeville, former Vice-Principal of Forest Oak Junior High, replaced Mr. Frank Kudlaty as Vice-Principal. Mrs. Elizabeth Hull, former Dean at Meacham Junior High, became the new Dean of Girls upon the retirement of Miss Kathryn Hayden.

Funds Update Science Program

Striving to create understanding of man's environment, the science department broadened students' knowledge of the physical and chemical sciences, offering study in physics, chemistry, and biology. In order to present the latest advances in these fields, science teachers enrolled in summer courses and attended night schools.

Additions and grants increased the capability of each department. Physics acquired a radiation detection device, the Geiger-Muller-Scaler electroscope. Mr. Bob Phillips, physics teacher, received the device from the Atomic Energy Commission. As in previous years, the National Health Institute granted $5,000 for biological research. Although this was the last year of the eight-year grant, interested students planned to continue research under Mr. Flavin Arseneau, biology teacher. The chemistry department, supervised by Miss Dona Stovall, added $3,000 of chemicals and equipment to the laboratory. With excellent supervisors and latest equipment, the AHHS science program ranked as one of the best in the state.

Aids Recreate Historic Past

Many innovations brought history to life for students. Visual aids—including an automatic movie projector, a film strip and slide projector, and a special daylight screen—pictured the histories and governments of many lands. Mr. Joe Sherrod, assisted by other history teachers, instituted a library in the workroom, consisting of books left by Miss Grace Becker, now retired.

Complete Liberal Education

One of the most complete and fully-equipped in the city, the Arlington Heights language department covered English, Spanish, French, German, and Latin. In the English department audio-visual aids, such as recordings of poetry and prose, overhead projectors, and phonographs were used. The audio-lingual method, centered around a modern language lab, was employed in the studies of Spanish, French, and German. Arlington Heights also held the position of being one of the two schools in Fort Worth to offer Latin 5 and 6. In addition, it was the only Latin department in the city to read Ovid's Metamorphosis. Through these up-to-date programs the school was able to provide for its students an extensive study of foreign languages, as well as English.

Electives Train for Future Fields

As a part of AHHS's technical training program, electives allowed a more liberal education for students. Technical courses in art, shop, business education, home economics, and music provided foundations for future professions.

Although a non-technical school, AHHS maintained excellent business and home economics departments. After receiving a diploma from Heights, one has a sturdy foundation in education on which to build or with which he can begin working.

PE Steps Up Fitness Program

The fast-moving pace of America's youth has forced the Physical Education Department to augment its physical fitness program. Among the improvements added to Boys P.E. were eighteen tennis rackets, four climbing ropes, tumbling and tennis instructions, and a vigorous physical strength program. Intramural awards were given in football, volleyball, basketball, track, and softball. Points given for participation, leadership, and physical strength served as a basis for these awards.

Girls P.E. provided an opportunity for girls to enjoy various sports: softball, archery, tennis, speedaway, basketball, volleyball, and badminton. In October and April the girls took part in a national physical fitness test. With added incentive to do better and an improved fitness program, P.E. should help students face the challenge of tomorrow.

Teachers Are People, Believe It or Not

MR. JAMES YORK

In order to maintain their sanity, most teachers spent part of their hours out of school with some avocation. Mr. James York, rather M/Sgt. James York of the United States Army Reserves, has been on active training maneuvers for two weeks every year since 1945. On his farm near Weatherford, Mr. Archie Stevens raised cattle, goats, and poultry as a second vocation. A former competition roller skater, Mr. Larry Barnes enjoyed skating after school and on weekends. Miss Sue Coffman was an avid mountain climber. Mrs. Irene Price found her hobby of hat-making both enjoyable and profitable. Heights faculty members did other things besides teaching school and grading papers.

Sophomore Class

A typical spohomore sweating over Latin conjugations, wading through Julius Caesar, and recoiling at a dissected frog, experienced the trials of obtaining an education. September 8, 1965, 662 sophomores entered the auditorium to be oriented to high school life. With new friends and schedules they struggled to classes throughout the building and annexes. Although the first pep rally confused them, their spirit soon rang out. While adjusting to changes, sophomores' participation in sports, clubs, and studies prepared them for leadership.

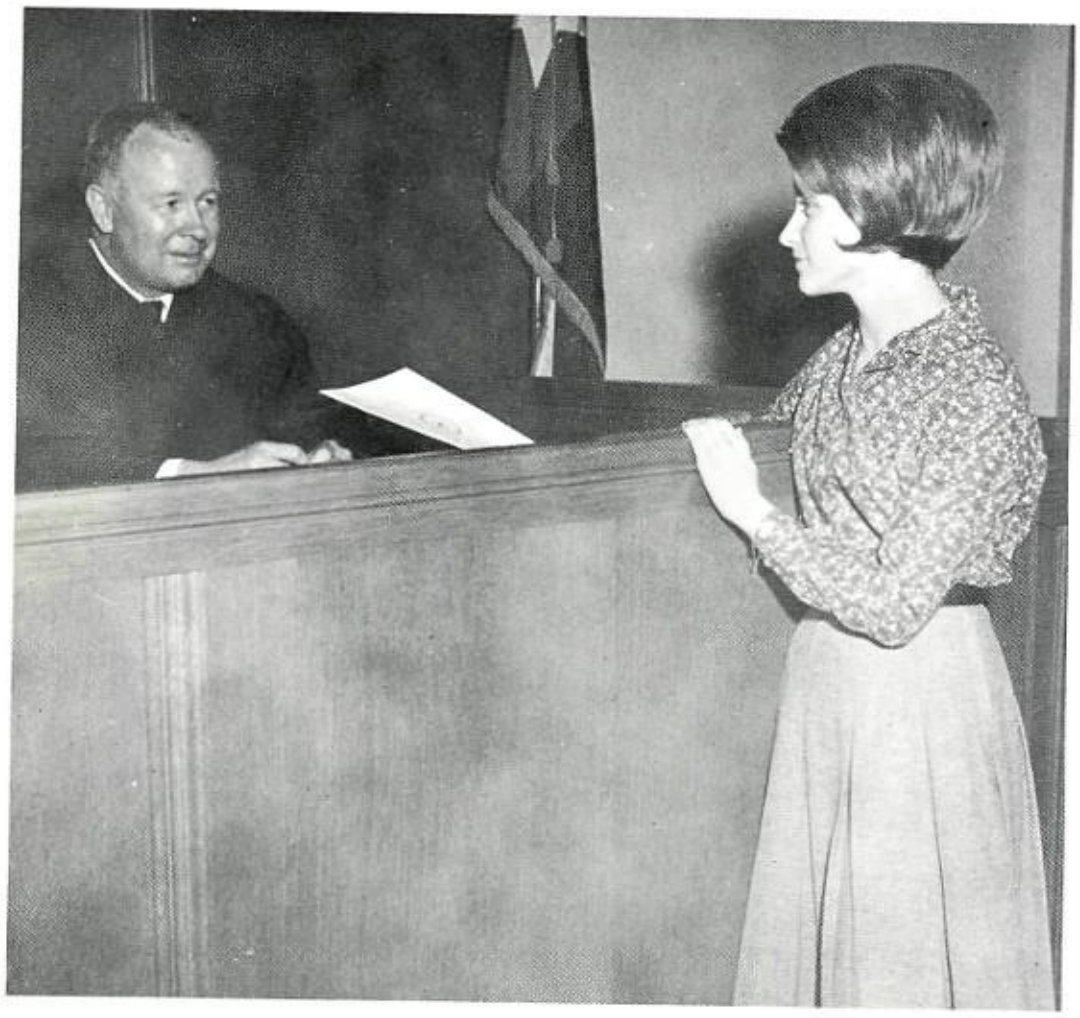
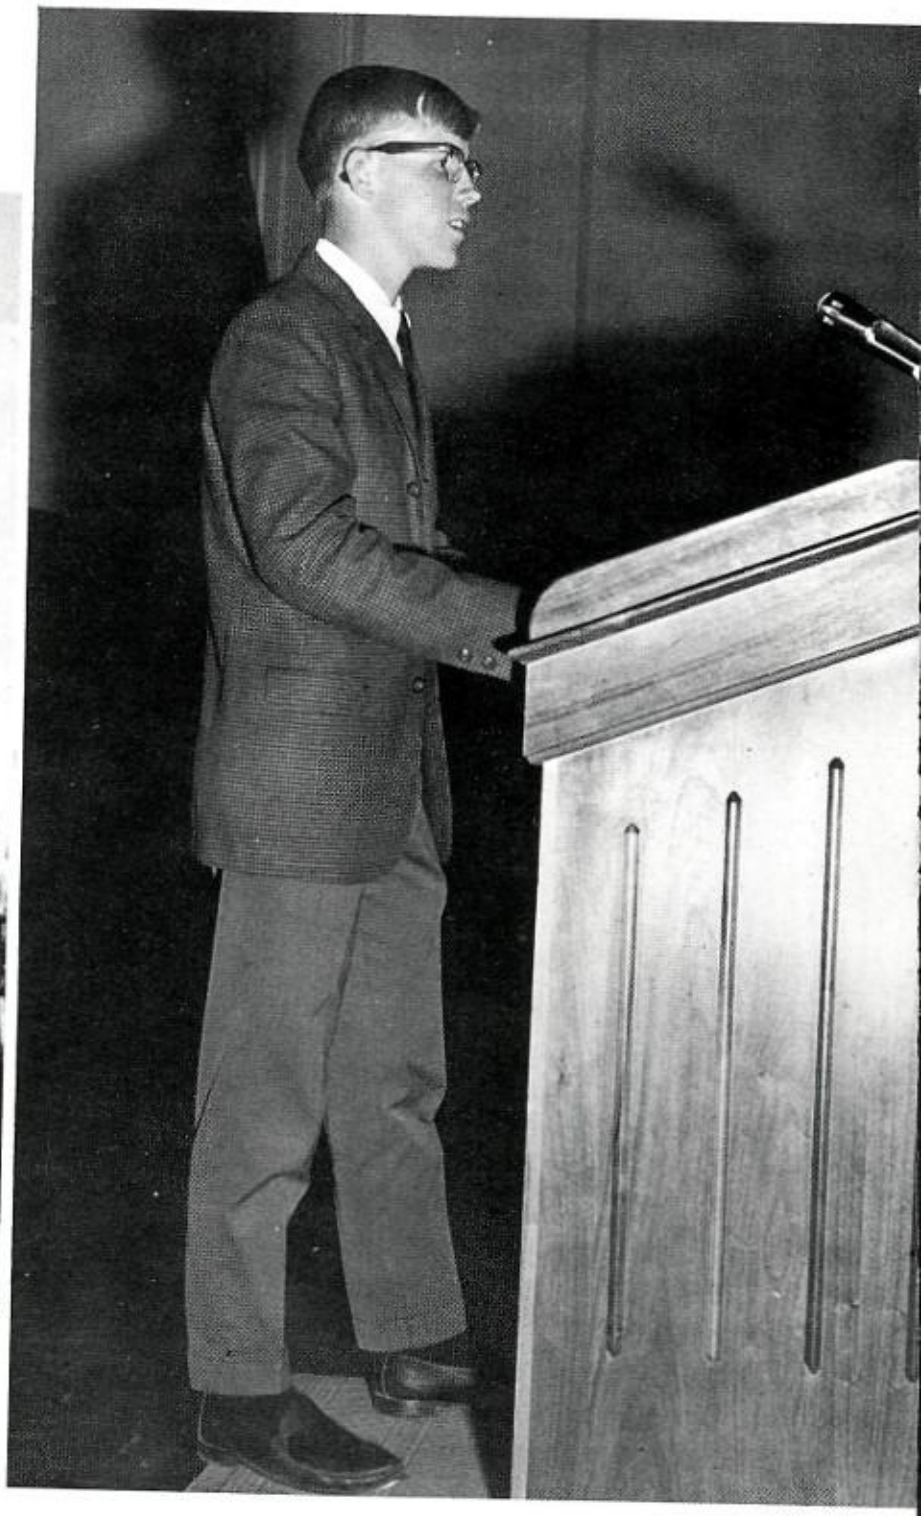
Junior Class

As members of the largest class at AHHS, the middleclassmen, though retaining old activities, sought new interests. English classes studied American literature and met the experience of term themes. Juniors were also active participants in sports, clubs, and other school sponsored functions, producing two of the school's student body officers. Toward the end of the year they competed for National Merit Scholarship honors and prepared for the upcoming year by ordering senior rings.



As head of Fort Worth's Teen-Age Jury, Cindy Willoughby works closely with Judge R. Wright Armstrong to encourage among students a desire for justice and equality.

A fine example of the class's aesthetic attributes is Diane Henker, who displays her works at school.



Clay Price, YCF speaker, attests the aims and ideals of juniors.

Senior Class

A pushing, shoving mob charged their way to register for classes; thus, the senior class of 1966 began "their year."

Settling down to classes, seniors found term themes and Macbeth's ghost haunting them throughout the fall semester. Football provided sports excitement with a shut-out over Paschal, handing district to the senior dominated team.

Then came . . . election of senior class officers . . . countless trips to the counselor . . . semester finals. Magazine sales by ambitious seniors paid the way for traditional parties and activities . . . the picnic at Camp Carter on Senior Day . . . the party at First Methodist Church . . . the banquet and formal dance. All of these culminated with Baccalaureate services and graduation night, when misty-eyed seniors said good-bye to childhood and welcomed a new life.

Class of 1966 officers are Judy Jay, treasurer: Mike Stinson, vice-president; Debbie Campbell, secretary; and Ray Pomykal, president.

Another day.
Seize this moment
And life will be too full for regret.

valerie tarman

To a great guy who I've known for a long time.
I hope to have many more good times with you.

Jerrell Jones

To a real great guy
I've known for only a short time. Someday maby you'll go far in ~~this~~ world.
Good Luck you old 69er!
Mike Smith

To a real swell guy.
Keep it up. Lots of Luck Lady-killer
Mike Versaches

To a real nice friend who I like very much. I hope you will always remember me, I know I will. I hope you have had fun here at a H.H.S.
Don MacDonald

Mike,
Hope you have all the luck in the world, and a little more. Hope the Hill will be as good to you, as it has been to me.
CARL ONKEN

Mike,
You're a real cool
guy. It's been fun
having you sit next to me in "good" ol geometry.
Lots of Luck,
Pam Shive

To the Woodman
of Wrights. Keep up the trouble work bud
you'll get no where.
Be a great success,
in whatever you will be
Ken Zollinger

Mike,
Nice meeting you this summer
Seems like we slept
Have fun
Much responsibility
without personality
Love,
Lovee
Mary

To a cool 69er
Tell your old lady what that means.

You're a good kid
its been fun knowing you

Bob McKay

Mike,
You are still the toughest runner, biggest jumper fastest runner, smellin'est guy and the strongest I've been past
I mean. I'll have been great knowin' you these years.
I never see you again
I can never be as lucky
I would like to say, most that good as a great guy.
Keep Smilin',
Steve

Mike, & enjoyed being in the same shop class with you. You're a nice guy. Lots of luck
in the future.
Neal Floyd

Mike, real nice running
You're a great runner
guy in geometry
Good Luck in Nancy

Mike, been great
Yes. been fun this year
Runnin' you next year
and maybe other?
be as good as this one?
Best of Luck
Don Dorn
